Daughter of MIA Colonel 'Confused'

By MATT SPIRENG

KINGSTON

On Sept. 30, 1965, Air Force Lieutenant Colonel Melvin Killian, commander of a tactical fighter squadron flying lookout for a reconnaissance mission over North Vietnam, was shot down by an enemy missile.

Since then he has been listed as missing in action, and his daughter, Mrs. Kathleen Ambrose of Orchard Street, Kingston, has waited patiently, wondering if he is alive or dead.

Outwardly she has thought of him as not being alive because it was easier than to speculate about what was being done to him in a POW camp. But inwardly there was hope, and when she received a call from the Air Force at 1 a.m. on Sunday those hopes were briefly raised, only to be lowered again.

The call was to tell her that her father's name was not included on the lists of POW's given out by Hanoi when the truce began at 7 p.m. Saturday. He is still listed as missing in action.

"When I got the call my heart was pounding, so there still must be hope or I wouldn't have reacted that way," Mrs. Ambrose told The Freeman.

Mrs. Ambrose is one of nine children of the downed flyer. Her mother, five sisters and one brother live in Tucson, Ariz. The youngest is eight years old and was still an infant when the then Lieutenant Colonel was shot down. One sister attends school, and one brother has had three children since Sept., 1965. Two children have been born to Mrs. Ambrose and her husband, Frank J. Ambrose Jr., since that time. She came to Kingston with her husband in 1963. They have a total of four children.

Special

Melvin Killian has been a career soldier since 1940 when he first enlisted as a private in the U.S. Army. When he was shot down, he had worked his way up to a Lieutenant Colonel in the Air Force.

Ironically, two weeks after he was shot down, word was received that he had been raised in rank to a full Colonel, a position which would have meant his return to the United States. "It was his dream, but he never really thought he'd make it," said Mrs. Ambrose. "We're sorry he wasn't around to know that he'd been made a full Colonel. Things just happened a little too late."

Col. Killian fought both in World War II and the Korean War.

Tomorrow, if he is alive, Col. Killian will have his 51st birthday. But he will receive no cards. All letters sent to him over the years have been returned from North Vietnam.

She was first informed that her father was missing in action in 1965 by telegram. "I was told then not to reveal it to anyone except the immediate family," Mrs. Ambrose said. In 1968 the government made the names public.

On Saturday the Air Force told Mrs. Ambrose that they will be sending teams of investigators into North Vietnam to unearth clues about the fates of the MIA's.

Mrs. Ambrose last heard from her father on her birthday, Sept. 24, 1965. In that letter he indicated that he believed the U.S. should be fighting in Vietnam.

"I just wonder what he would think of it (the war) if he were here now," she added.

"I feel like my mother," Mrs. Ambrose said. "I'm prepared if he's alive, and I'm prepared if he's dead." But the doubt and wondering continues.

Fighting Down, Violations Many

By United Press International

Hanoi Radio said today the North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry has protested "U.S. and Saigon government" violations of the two-day-old cease-fire in South Vietnam. The broadcast followed Washington claims of strict U.S. adherence to the treaty.

"Immediately after the cease-fire went into effect (at 7 p. m. EST Saturday), the Saigon government still launched military operations into areas controlled by liberation forces," Hanoi Radio said.

The broadcast, monitored in Saigon, did not say to whom the protest, delivered Monday, was addressed. It said North Vietnam and the Viet Cong "categorically carry out seriously the treaty" and said the Hanoi Foreign Ministry severely condemns these actions by the U.S. and Saigon governments.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler told reporters Monday at the Florida White House that the United States is strictly adhering to the Vietnam cease-fire and expects the other signatories—South and North Vietnam and the Viet Cong—to do the same. He also said the administration is not surprised that fighting is still going on in Vietnam.

We are dealing with a number of units in a very large country that are in the process of standing down," Ziegler said. "We, of course, have stood down totally. We expect the agreement to be adhered to."

Meanwhile, fighting was reported, tapering off sharply late today in the second full day of the Vietnam cease-fire but military officers said it was too early to tell if the downward trend would continue.

The Saigon command said that four of the five main highways out of Saigon cut by Communist troops at the time of the cease-fire, which went into effect Sunday morning, are now open.

Field reports, however, said sporadic fighting was keeping Highway 1 to the northwest downward trend would continue.

U. S. Pressuring Hanoi on POWs

WASHINGTON (UPI) —

Through diplomatic channels and in public statements, the United States is pressuring Hanoi to release a list of American prisoners of war held in Laos and to account for 56 other "known" POWs not included on the official Communist roster.

The public pressure so far has been low key but clear.

If the captives in Laos and the other 56 prisoners were acknowledged, defense officials believe, more than 100 names might be added to the official listing of 555 living and 55 dead POWs given to U.S. diplomats at the cease-fire signing in Paris Saturday.

The Pentagon first spoke out on the Laotian matter Sunday, calling the list handed over the day before "incomplete." Defense Department spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim said Monday the question is being pursued through diplomatic channels in Paris, and the missing list "soon."

Friedheim also said a painstaking analysis of the Communist list had turned up the omission of 56 names of servicemen the Pentagon definitely considers POWs because of information put out earlier by the Communists themselves or received through intelligence channels.

Some of these men appeared in POW propaganda photographs and movies from Hanoi or were mentioned in news dispatches filed by correspondents in the North Vietnamese capital.

The Pentagon did not identify for newsmen the 56 men Friedheim referred to. At least 16 of them, however, have been previously identified officially or unofficially by defense officials.

Two of them—Navy Lt. (jg) Walter O. Estes II of Williamston, Mich., and Navy Lt. (jg) James E. Teague of Harrisburg, Ark.—were among 14 the Pentagon described a year ago in a booklet entitled "Hanoi Refuses to Disclose the Fate of These Men."

The mystery of the 56 unacknowledged men was just one kind of discrepancy with which "Project Homecoming" POW experts have been wrestling in a gold-curtained command post at the Pentagon, Friedheim said.

CONCERNED RELATIVES—Mrs. Maureen Dunn, of Randolph, Mass., Northeast Regional Coordinator for the National League of Families, and wife of a missing Navy flyer tells a press conference she was told by presidential advisor Henry Kissinger during the weekend the United States will "brutally enforce the ceasefire if it does not come off according to plan. "Mrs. Dunn spoke as 35 members of families of Massachusetts men missing in action listened solemnly. The families pledged to continue efforts to force North Vietnam to account for nearly 1,400 men listed as missing. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

The issues of withdrawal of North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam and the refusal of the Provisional Revolutionary Government (Viet Cong) to recognize Thieu's government are two main disputes between Saigon and the Communists. Agnew's remarks came in a statement released by the U.S.

KINGSTON POINT'S ICY SHORELINE.

ALONE ON BURGEVIN STREET.

SNOW-MANTLED BARN ON DELAWARE AVENUE.

Ulster County Winter Beauty Is in the Eye of the Beholder

KINGSTON Winter has zeroed in on the Mid-Hudson Valley with all the mixed joys and sorrows of that season. The landscape stirs poetic thoughts when one looks up. However underfoot and underwheel the slickness takes on the elements of a horror story. The mercury dipped to minus one just after dawn this morning in the City of Kingston with an even cooler minus four at Belleayre Mountain. Although the readings were far from being a record for the date it was a dubious sort of distinction for the month which has seen record warm days on several occasions. Area schools reopened today after the first snow holiday of the year Monday. The water content of the 11 inch snow fall Sunday night into Monday morning caused a number of downed limbs and resultant damage to power lines. Widespread power outages plagued Central Hudson crews throughout Monday. Hardest hit were the High Falls area including lines to Olivebridge, Allgerville and Stone Ridge and sections in the Woodstock area including Glenford, and West Hurley. A total of 2,000 customers were without power for varying times in various locations. All power was back in operation by 9 p.m. Monday and last night's high winds cleared most of the lines and tree limbs of the dangerous white burden of snow. Roads clogged by the heavy snow were for the most part passable today. Caution is advised as there are icy spots on most sections. Just to strengthen winter's belated grip, those temperatures are expected to stay well below the freezing mark through Thursday when an other period of precipitation is expected, possibly in the form of snow. And this is good news for winter sports devotees who have waited far too long for that trek to the open slopes and woodland trails.

DEDICATION PARTICIPANTS — Founders, benefactors and current officers were cited at recent dedication ceremonies for the new permanent campus complex of Ulster Academy just north of the Kingston Rhinecliff Bridge in the Town of Ulster. Taking part in the program were (L-R) Robert Yallum, trustee; William Ganter, headmaster who gave the main address reaffirming the purposes of the independent secondary school, and Morton Kamen, president of the board of trustees who paid tribute to all those who had worked since 1967 to make the school a reality. (Freeman photo by Powell)

Col. Few Returns to Georgia

BEACON, N.Y. (AP) — Rev. Few Jr. to a more appropriate resting place in his native state. About 20 persons braved the cold, snowy weather to attend a brief ceremony during which the colonel's bones were re-interred in an urban renewal project. But not any more. Monday, moved from the vault and four Georgia officials escorted him in a casket for the trip back home.

Clifford M. Clark, chairman came to New York in 1800 and of Georgia's Bicentennial Celebration served as a member of the state plans to construct a large monument to Few who was one of its first U.S. senators and con. also represented Georgia at the Col. Few's departure from the Continental Convention and the Empire State came with the approval of the state legislature. Born in 1748, the colonel

Rhinebeck Mayor Back in Race

RHINEBECK If those following the village political race in Rhinebeck this winter are a trifle confused, there is good reason.

Peter F. Sipperley, who has been mayor for the past four years, is "back in the saddle again," to borrow a phrase from Gene Autry.

Having given notice last week that he had decided not to seek a third term as mayor, partially because former Mayor Robert Shackleton had volunteered to come forward and fill the bill once again, Sipperley had second thoughts after reading some newspaper accounts and has decided to re-toss his hat in the ring for the March election.

And it now appears that there will be two full-fledged tickets for voters to choose from, something out of the ordinary for the low-paying jobs that generally can attract only grudging participation.

It seems that Sipperley read some "unkind things" Shackleton allegedly said about him in a local newspaper and decided that perhaps Shackleton was not really the right man for the job as his successor. He served as a trustee under Shackleton before his election as mayor in 1969.

Also instrumental in his decision was the fact that many village residents had urged him to reconsider.

With Sipperley on his ticket will be John Marks, trustee, who had also withdrawn his name from consideration; Dr. Simon Kleeger, a Rhinebeck dentist who had also withdrawn his name from the ballot; and incumbent police justice William Pollard.

Squaring off in this contest, the only one of consequence shaping up in Northern Dutchess, will be Shackleton; trustee aspirant Clark Henderson and Harold Nichol; and judge hopeful Kenneth Burke.

Clean Freeman Tubes

KINGSTON The Daily Freeman's Circulation Department requests all motor route subscribers to be sure that their paper tubes are clear of snow and readily accessible to delivery personnel today and throughout the winter months.

Areas surrounding the tubes should be clear of snow in order to permit delivery cars to make a fast and efficient drop-off. This will speed up delivery of The Daily Freeman to all motor route subscribers.

In Ulster Sheriff's Department

New 'Crime Squad' Created

KINGSTON Creation of a new "crime squad" within the Ulster County Sheriff's Department has been announced by Sheriff William B. Martin.

The undercover detail will utilize plainclothes officers and unmarked cars, said Martin, to investigate all crimes in Ulster County that come under the jurisdiction of the department. He said the "team approach" would be used to follow up on crimes committed, particularly burglaries.

Five deputies have been named initially to the new unit. They include Arthur Nercessian, Bart Kniffen, Angel Biaz, Einar Knutsen and Richard Bazlow.

Creation of the "crime squad" coincides with Martin's stated "reorganization of the Sheriff's Department. To that end, he announced several assignment changes within the department.

Sgt. Frederick Brinkman, formerly the duty sergeant, has been named head jailer. Sgt. Raymond Davis, who was previously the head jailer, assumes Brinkman's post as duty sergeant. In addition, Sgt. Warren Walsh has been moved to day duty, according to Sheriff Martin.

The changes, including establishment of the "crime squad," take effect Feb. 2.

Nixon Called LBJ About Cease-Fire

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — President Nixon telephoned former President Lyndon B. Johnson before Johnson died and told him of the Vietnam cease-fire agreement, Johnson's widow said Monday.

Lady Bird Johnson said so many friends had said they were sorry her husband did not live to hear Nixon's televised announcement one week ago of the peace agreement, that she wanted to let them know he did not die without knowing the long war was coming to an end.

"I think his friends should be told that fate was kind," Mrs. Johnson said. "Lyndon did know that peace had come."

Johnson died Monday, Jan. 22, and Nixon's announcement came the next day. But Mrs. Johnson said her husband had asked his longtime friend and assistant Horace Busby on Jan. 19 to draw up a statement for Johnson to make when the agreement was signed.

"I give thanks that the great heart which sustained him through so many ordeals sustained Lyndon until he knew the ordeal of war was over," Mrs. Johnson said in a three-page statement issued from her broadcast station office in Austin.

She said she wanted people to know the 36th president did not die unhappy.

She said the purpose of her statement was also to thank the "many expressions of friendship and devotion" the family has received since Johnson's death.

"My husband never wanted to do anything with his life but to give it to his country and to all its people," Mrs. Johnson said. "Over 40 years, he gave all there was within him. Now, I feel, all he gave is being returned to him many times over."

She gave special thanks to Nixon.

"Through the constant consideration and thoughtfulness of President Nixon and Dr. Henry Kissinger, my husband was kept continuously informed at every stage of the long negotiations which he began more than four years ago," Mrs. Johnson said.

"He followed those proceedings very closely, and he was so pleased when President Nixon himself called to report the final breakthrough."

Heath Heads for Washington For Middle East Discussion

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath leaves for Washington today with a proposal for President Nixon for a new peacemaking approach in the Middle East.

Qualified British sources said Heath wants Nixon to put pressure on Israel to come to terms swiftly while European governments do the same with the Arabs.

Heath and Nixon begin their two-day conference in the White House Thursday. It will be the President's first encounter with the head of a foreign government since his inauguration. It will be Heath's first meeting with the President since Britain joined the common market Jan. 1. On Friday, they continue their discussions at Camp David, Md.

While the leaders range over policy, the more detailed intricacies of foreign affairs will occupy Britain's foreign secretary, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, and Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

The talks will include Soviet and Chinese intentions, international trade and reforms to the world money system.

Among other topics due to come up in the British-American exchanges:

- A redefinition of the shared interests and common aims of the Western powers despite their periodic clashes in economic and political sectors.
- Analyses of the trends and motives in the policies of such countries as the Soviet Union, China and India.
- Security situations in Europe, in the Middle East, the Indian Ocean and the Far East in the post-Vietnam era.
- Tactics to be adopted by the North Atlantic allies in coming negotiations on European security and force cuts in Europe.
- The implications for the lesser nuclear powers — Britain and France — in the strategic arms limitation talks between the United States and Russia. This could vitally affect Heath's pet project — a pooling of British and French nuclear arms sources.
- Prospects for purchase of the British-French supersonic airliner, the Concorde, by American airlines and its acceptance by local aviation authorities. Heath hopes Nixon will use his influence to ensure that the Concorde is not blacklisted.
- Finally, Heath plans to give

Nixon a rundown of the situation in Northern Ireland where, British officials claim, British policy has the President's full understanding.

On Vietnam Heath will tell the President of Britain's readiness to participate in the peace conference due to begin Feb. 26. But he will serve notice that Britain's capacity to help in the reconstruction of Vietnam is limited.

He will urge that the best way to handle peacekeeping in Vietnam is by internationalizing it under the United Nations.

Viet Village Survived the War

THANH PHUOC, Vietnam (AP) — This little village of 2,500 survived the war just fine on the Saigon-Phnom Penh highway. It was peace that brought devastation.

"My house, my clothes, our rice..." wailed 43-year-old Thi Ket, squatting by the smoldering remains of her family's wood and tile home.

Neighbors were too grief-stricken to listen. One sadly shook his head at the wreckage of his own brick and masonry home which collapsed to shoulder height when hit by a shell from a tank gun. About half of the village's homes were wrecked.

Villagers had celebrated the cease-fire early with a party Saturday night. The next morning many of them gathered around a radio for the official announcement of the start of the cease-fire at 8 a.m.

President Nguyen Van Thieu came on the air and they leaned forward to listen. "We were very happy, very happy," recalled one villager.

That lasted 15 minutes. At 8:15, the villagers said, a party of Viet Cong entered Thanh Phuoc from the forest in back. Soon after, some South Vietnamese soldiers arrived.

Whoever started it — the villagers say it was the Viet Cong — the battle lasted all day. The government forces used tanks and heavy weapons. The other side fired back with machine guns and and bazooka-type rockets.

The houses of Thanh Phuoc lay right in the middle.

The village about 35 miles from Saigon had been lucky during the long war, escaping most of the damage along the highway to Cambodia.

This time it was shattered. Even the coconuts were charred atop broken palm trees. Residents fled to safety during the fighting, but their cows and chickens didn't.

Rice stocks were also destroyed along with blankets, baby shoes and bottles of beer. Incense burned along with everything else, scenting the air.

A little girl sat atop a car of rubble, looking calmly at television crews filming her. A black-uniformed militia officer wrote on a banner in red paint: "We accuse the Viet Cong of violating the agreement on January 28, 1973."

One old woman with teeth stained from betel nut cried to herself. Another muttered over and over: "My house is finished, everything is gone, what do I do?"

Other villagers sifted through the smoking ashes for unbroken roof tiles and sheets of tin so they could start all over again.

Watergate Trial in Home Stretch

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Watergate bugging trial moves toward a conclusion today, with some facts still not brought out by testimony and both defendants still claiming they did nothing wrong.

U.S. District Court scheduled summations by defense attorneys and Prosecutor Earl L. Silbert today. Judge John J. Sirica said he then would issue a 90-minute charge to the jury, allowing the jurors to start their deliberations.

The case recessed for the day Monday after Silbert issued a 55-minute condemnation of the defendants. G. Gordon Liddy, former White House counsel and Nixon re-election campaign official, and James W. McCord Jr., who served the re-election committee as security chief.

Gerald Alch, McCord's lawyer, said later he would give his own 45-minute summation in which he would contend that "what he (McCord) did, he felt was correct under the circumstances."

Alch said, "What is more important is what was in his mind before he went into the headquarters" of the Democratic National Committee last June.

Peter Maroulis, attorney for Liddy, said the defense in his own 45-minute summary would center around the contention that Liddy acted "without guilty knowledge" and that the "chain of innocence stops with Howard Hunt," one of five other defendants who pleaded guilty. He meant Liddy was as innocent as his superiors in the Committee to Re-elect the President (CRP).

McCord is charged with eight counts in the indictment and Liddy with six. Both are charged with conspiracy, burglary, wiretapping, bugging and related charges and McCord is charged with possession of some of the equipment.

Liddy faces a possible maximum sentence of 50 years and $40,000 in fines and McCord 60 years and a similar fine. None of the five who pleaded guilty has been sentenced pending a pre-sentence investigation.

Appeals for Help

REYKJAVIK (UPI) — Prime Minister Olafur Johannesson appealed to the world Monday to help the homeless victims of the island volcano Heimgjell start a new life on the Iceland mainland.

Johannesson told an emergency session of parliament that prefabricated houses and money were most needed.

Meanwhile, on the island of Heimaey, salvage workers waded knee deep through mud, ducking falling ash, to save what belongings they could find in the homes of islanders who fled one week ago when the volcano erupted.

The Heimgjell volcano there erupted last Tuesday after 5,000 years and poured tons of lava and ash over homes, barns and farmland on the island that Iceland calls the center of its rich fishing industry.

Johannesson said displaced islanders could move into new houses built in the scattered villages on Iceland's southwest coast although any islanders who want to return to Heimaey,

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened slightly higher in moderate trading today on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue chip stocks was up 0.46 to 996.92. Advances led declines, 18 to 119, among the 454 issues on the tape.

Bridge Toll Will Stay In Effect

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The federal government will pay 90 per cent of the cost of the new Newburgh-Beacon Bridge, but drivers will still have to pay the state a toll to use the facility, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's office announced today.

The bridge is to become part of Interstate 84 but a toll will be collected to pay off the bonded indebtedness of $24 million for the old bridge.

The new bridge is expected to be completed by 1978 or 1979, with a preliminary cost estimate of $55 million, Rockefeller said.

Transportation Commissioner Raymond Schuler acknowledged that "90 per cent federal funding is very rare for toll facilities," but he called the arrangement "very advantageous for New York travelers and taxpayers."

GOP Head Scores Column

KINGSTON Frank Fabbie, chairman of the Kingston Republican Committee, has taken issue with the City Beat column in Sunday's Freeman which dealt in part with new parking lots in Central Broadway.

"In the column," Fabbie said, "Reporter Hugh Reynolds said the businessmen give credit to Alderman Don Quick and Alderman Peter Mancuso for the eventual construction of the three lots, and credited the mayor with the job because he signed the legislation."

"I don't know what businessmen Mr. Reynolds spoke to," Fabbie said, "but I am surprised that the credit goes to Quick and Mancuso. I have first hand knowledge of many of the preliminary meetings attended by Minority Leader Brian Smith, Alderman Tom Davitt and Alderman Bernie Sims, Republicans, and no one can deny the effort they contributed to this project."

In commenting on Koenig's signing of the legislation, Fabbie said, "Apparently Reynolds gives the mayor all the credit for these three parking lots, on the basis that he signed the legislation which the Common Council had passed. 'Perhaps both Mr. Reynolds and the mayor's memories are too short to remember that these three lots are not what the businessmen of the area were looking for originally. They wanted the construction of a shopping plaza with adequate parking, etc. This was like asking for a turkey dinner and getting the bones instead,' Fabbie concluded."

The Missing 1,300 Americans... Riddle May Never Be Solved

WASHINGTON (AP) — It will take many years, if ever, to solve the riddle of what has happened to more than 1,300 American fighting men missing in Southeast Asia, Pentagon officials predict.

American representatives will go over the list of unaccounted-for U.S. servicemen with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong authorities, name by name, seeking information on their whereabouts.

The Vietnam peace agreement, signed in Paris last Saturday, commits all parties to cooperate in locating missing men and graves.

But the language in the various documents is general and the provisions for carrying out such responsibilities are sketchy.

It is clear that much will depend on the willingness of the North Vietnamese to permit search teams on their soil. Pentagon officials say they cannot tell how far Hanoi's cooperation will extend.

High hopes that many of the 1,300-plus missing men would turn out to be enemy prisoners were shattered over the week-end when the North Vietnamese reported they and their Viet Cong allies held 555 Americans captive. Under the cease-fire agreement, prisoners are to be returned within 60 days.

U.S. military men and civilian officials long have acknowledged privately that perhaps most of the missing were dead because American airplanes and their crews were seen going down in deep jungle, often far removed from roads and villages.

The Vietnam peace agreement stipulates that all the parties—U.S., North Vietnamese, Viet Cong and South Vietnamese—U.S., North Vietnamese lists of captured military and civilian personnel on the day of the signing.

But Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim confirmed that the Communists provided no list covering Americans captured in Laos. Only six Americans have been listed by the Pentagon as captured in Laos, but another 311 were carried as missing and Friedheim said, "We have reason to believe there are more U.S. POWs in Laos."

He avoided numbers, but military sources said they feel that as many as 65 to 70 American airmen may be held captive in Laos.

Friedheim told reporters "we do expect to receive a list" of American POWs in Laos from the North Vietnamese, but he did not say on what he based his belief.

The Pentagon's top spokesman said that, in hunting for evidence of the location of additional Americans in Indochina, the United States will work through the temporary joint military commission of the warring parties being set up in Saigon, and through diplomatic channels.

Friedheim said late last week that during the 60-day period for prisoner exchange some U.S. military men will be shifted from Vietnam to Nakhon Phanom, a base in Thailand close to the border of Laos. There, the Americans will organize a casualty-recovery center to search for men missing in Indochina.

"We have an obligation to the families of the men missing in action to do our best. We intend to fulfill that even if it takes us years to do so," Friedheim said.

The key paragraph in the agreement that obligates the North Vietnamese and other signing parties says this:

"The parties shall help each other to get information about those military personnel and foreign civilians of the parties missing in action, to determine the location and take care of the graves of the dead so as to facilitate the exhumation and repatriation of the remains, and to take any such other measures as may be required to get information about those still considered missing in action."

But the agreement does not spell out the measures, apparently leaving it to the good will of the countries involved to carry out the responsibilities.

Eventually, after all possible avenues and means are exhausted, the services may act to register "findings of presumptive death" for men who remain unaccounted for. Pentagon officials said there is no specific number of years required before such a step is taken.

There still are 389 American servicemen who have not been accounted for since the Korean war ended almost 20 years ago.

Weekend of Joy and Tragedy

United Press International

A knock at the door or a strident jangling of the telephone over the weekend were omens of joy or tragedy for families of prisoners of war or of those missing in action.

For some the calls from the Pentagon or visits by military teams meant their relatives imprisoned in North Vietnam were safe and accounted for.

For others it was a tragic end to doubt.

Some families, however, remained in the limbo of uncertainty—not really knowing whether their sons, husbands, brothers or fathers were still alive.

In Salina, Kan., Mrs. Kathleen had difficulty in restrain-ing her tears when notified that her husband, Army Maj. Bruce Johnson was not on the official list of those scheduled to come home within 60 days.

"I think perhaps I almost feel too stunned to know what to feel," she said, "other than to be terribly sad that a name we loved wasn't there."

Mrs. John Pitchford, Laguna Niguel, Calif., notified by phone that her husband, an Air Force Colonel, would be coming home, said with delight, "this is the greatest, my sunniest day."

But her elation was tempered by the knowledge that others were not as lucky as she.

"I feel so happy until I think of some of the other girls whose husbands are not coming back," she said.

Things were sad in the news of their kin, not on the list of those coming home, would surface.

"I'm not going to give up,"

said Henry Fors, Puyallup,

Wash., when told his missing son, Gary, was not listed as a prisoner. "I'd like proof of death—a gravesite, dog tags or anything."

In Memphis, Tenn., Clay

Stacks did not know what to believe.

"A survival officer came to my door at 2:30 this morning and said our son was not on the list," Clay said Sunday. "He led us to believe the list was final."

Stack said he learned later the list was not complete and that his son, missing since his helicopter was shot down in 1968, was still unaccounted for.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ester,

Williamston, Mich., were perplexed because the name of their son, Navy Lt. Walter

Estes Jr., was not on the list.

They said he had appeared in pictures released by North

Vietnamese shortly after he was shot down November, 1967.

"We hope there'll be a supplementary list coming,"

Estes said. "But we don't know if there is such a thing coming."

Mrs. Virginia Werner, Ypsilanti, Mich., whose son was reported alive, summed up the gratitude of those families who were the recipients of good news.

"Praise the Lord," she said.

'We're Still Hoping'...

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)

— The longest war for America appears to have ended, but the anguish is endless for some families of men missing in action for whom no final accounting has been made.

"We're still hoping," said M. George Clarke, mother of Air Force Lt. George Clarke, who has been missing in Vietnam since 1967. She has never heard from him.

"They said his name was not on the list — but they were still checking. Some of the first released prisoners several years ago had said they had seen George alive," Mrs. Clarke added.

But George's name was not on the official POW list released by Hanoi.

Neither was Lt. Donald Lindland's name. The Navy flier was shot down last September, and his wife Billie had said earlier why she was hopeful:

"He was last seen running on the ground, his navigator running with him."

The navigator's name was on the official list of prisoners. Billie's husband was not.

Mrs. Lindland is among the several dozen wives of prisoners or men missing from the Tidewater area, where jets from the nearby Navy base thunder overhead daily.

They are among the families of more than 1,200 men who have been missing, some for as long as eight years.

Some who have clung to slim hope acknowledged for the first time the finality of their husbands' death. To others the final word was no surprise.

But it was to at least one from this area, Jane Randall, who feared she might be a widow. Her husband is coming back.

"Bob was shot down last July," said Mrs. Randall, whose husband, Lt. Robert Randall, was flying off the aircraft carrier Saratoga when he was shot down.

"I was almost hoping his status wouldn't be changed — I'd rather it stay an MIA than know he's dead," she said of the grim vigil of waiting to hear.

The wife of her husband's commanding officer was with Jane when the Navy casualty assistance officer knocked on her door.

"There was no expression on his face," said Mrs. Randall. "I couldn't tell from that."

"And he had no champagne bottle under his arm — I'd asked him to bring some champagne, if Bob was alive."

"Well, Bob's name is on the list," he told her.

"Are you sure?" she kept asking him.

The officer, who had left the champagne in the car, brought it out and along with other friends, they celebrated.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JANUARY 30, 1973

WASHINGTON — In the no-holds-barred style of Eliot Ness, Federal agents are chasing down narcotics pushers for such crimes as tax cheating, serving liquor to minors and having dirty counters in their cafes.

Pursuit on hoods of such unorthodox charges dates back to the days of Al Capone, who was jailed for tax dodging when police could not make murder charges stick, and Attorney General Robert Kennedy carried the practice to an art when his anti-Mafia drive netted a major gangster with his car trunk full of illegally shot wildfowl.

Now, agents of DALE — Drug Abuse Law Enforcement — are using the same techniques to nail heroin street hustlers who are too slippery to be caught on narcotics counts.

From our conversations in the field with the agents themselves, here are some of their off-beat tactics:

— Armed with city health codes, the agents are checking out junky restaurants and bars for insects in ice cream machines, dirty counters and scum on sinks. They then turn over their cases to city health inspectors so the drug haunts can be closed down for health reasons.

— The agents are making cases against operators of dope hangouts that serve liquor to minors, operate after hours and water whiskey. The purpose is to shut down drug haunts through followup action by local alcoholic beverage commissions and boards.

— Because city and state tax cases are often easier to make than federal cases, the agents have offered their talents to local tax men. The agents have proved that hoodlums paid cash for big cars at a time when the hoods were telling city tax authorities they had little or no income.

— In cities where marshals are lazy or overworked, the agents are serving bench warrants on missing suspects or chasing down jail escapees. Sometimes, the fugitives are under charges unrelated to drugs. But they draw their main income from drug traffic, thus are fair game for the "nars."

— The agents also have investigated bail bond and parole violations by suspected drug hustlers, so that the pushers can be jailed, even when the crimes involved are not directly related to heroin.

These novel methods are showing results, but the agents in the field complain they are getting little or no cooperation from their boss, sociable Myles Ambrose. The agents are especially bitter because DALE was the brainchild of President Nixon himself, who installed Ambrose in the job and periodically has praised his successes.

The agents tell us they could get twice as much done if Ambrose, his chiefs in the Justice Department, or the White House itself would persuade local authorities to give them more help.

Set Ways

"A letter from Ambrose or somebody else with some clout back there (in Washington) could work miracles," a frustrated DALE agent told us. "A city booze inspector is set in his ways. He isn't going to help me shut down a dope bar unless his mayor has told him to cooperate one hundred per cent."

Despite these complaints by the Federal Narcotics, Tax and Customs agents, and the local detectives who make up DALE, there have been solid accomplishments.

A confidential tally on DALE's results from last January to December 18 — its first eleven months of operation — shows more than 100 pounds of heroin, much of it low grade, was seized or was bought for evidence by undercover agents.

Although heroin is DALE's focus, the agents have also collected 50 pounds of cocaine, 25 of hashish, 6,000 pounds of marijuana and smaller amounts of LSD, amphetamines and smoking opium.

DALE also claims 3,782 narcotics arrests, 449 convictions and the seizure of a warehouse full of "implements of crime." These include $714,146 in cash, 477 pistols, nine hand grenades, 292 cars, an antitank gun, a cabin cruiser, six machine guns, an airplane and 104 pounds of explosives.

Footnote: A DALE spokesman conceded that no official guideline had been put out for agents or city officials on the Eliot Ness-style prosecutions. But Director Ambrose has visited 38 of DALE's 41 target cities, and in each case has urged local officials to cooperate with DALE's innovative methods, the spokesman said.

Washington Whirl

HOSPITAL COVERAGE

Consumers Union has started a probe of health insurance costs and as a first step asked Blue Cross for a look at its contracts with hospitals. Although the insurance firm operates under a congressional mandate in Washington, it refused the request, first claiming the contracts were too complicated for the consumer group to understand. When the consumers offered to send a lawyer, Blue Cross President Donald Farver flatly refused to let the lawyer see the contracts without the hospital's permission. This means policyholders cannot see the secret arrangements Blue Cross has with the hospitals who treat them. "We have nothing to hide," Farver told us, even as he refused to let us see the contracts.

LORILLARD LETTERS

We recently exposed a phony Lorillard Tobacco Company letter-writing campaign to sway the Civil Aeronautics Board against antismoking action. Now a Ralph Nader group has followed up with a formal charge that Lorillard "seriously" distorted the record. In its filing, the Aviation Consumer Action Project asked the CAB to investigate how many letters Lorillard got its ad agencies and employees to write.

Lorillard has told writers not to use company stationery, but to write by hand, using home addresses, to make the outpouring look spontaneous. The aviation consumer group said the drive raised "serious ethical and legal considerations" for the Lorillard legal staff because the American Bar Association bans "deceit or misrepresentation." Lorillard lawyer A. J. Stevens explained to us that he knew the anti-smokers had a campaign going and he felt that those with opposite views had a right to express their opinions.

Equal Rights in Trouble

The aphorism still may be true that everybody's for motherhood but when it comes to women's rights, some negative voices are starting to be heard—and most of the voices are female.

So the Equal Rights Amendment to the United States Constitution, once considered certain of passage, has run into trouble and now the pro lib groups are expressing concern.

The legislation was passed by Congress last year. It outlaws all forms of sex discrimination based on law or government action. Ratification is required by 38 states. Thus far 22 have approved and advocates admit that the task of gaining approval in 16 additional states is formidable.

Why there should be so much opposition is hard to say. Maybe some women just don't like to be treated as equals.

At least one of the arguments developed by the negative adherents is plainly irrelevant. They maintain that the amendment would make women subject to the military draft. This might be true, technically. But the draft has expired.

Opponents also maintain that laws requiring men to support their families would be nullified if the amendment were passed. Supporters say this charge is blatantly false.

Regardless, efforts to stop the amendment are mounting and women, not men, are spearheading the drive. Mrs. Phyllis Schafly, who has been identified with right wing movements, is among the opposition leaders, not necessarily because of her political orientation but probably because she's conservative by nature.

She, for example, maintains that equal rights would be a step down rather than a step up for women, who already have, in Mrs. Schafly's view, a status of special privilege. They have the right not to take a job, she says, and the tradition that awards children to the mother in divorce cases unless there is overwhelming evidence that dictates otherwise.

There's another opposition organization called H.O.W., which stands for "Happiness of Womenhood," making headway in many states.

All of this is unfortunate because the Equal Rights Amendment is bound to come and such tactics can only serve to provide unnecessary delays. Certainly awkward situations occasionally will crop up via some interpretations of equal rights, but basically the amendment is designed to create more opportunities for women in various fields of endeavor and to open doors previously closed. Arguments to the contrary only distort the issue. The time is long past to treat women as inferiors.

License Plate Dodge

A minimum of 10,000 New York City residents are using out-of-state plates on cars driven in the city, when the law requires residents to license their cars in the state. The out-of-state licenses very often are a dodge. They are used as a shield while the cars accumulate overdue summonses for illegal parking on the streets.

One executive had 200 unpaid parking tickets against him on four cars that he had registered in Vermont. That gave impetus to a drive to catch up with scofflaws with out-of-state plates. The owner of a Cadillac and a sports car seized in the drive had accumulated 100 parking tickets. He will have to satisfy a judgment of $12,000 to retrieve the cars, or else have them auctioned off for payment.

State automobile bureaus are studying the feasibility of establishing a scofflaw commission, with procedures for reciprocal actions, to put a stop to this latest racket and get auto owners to register their cars at home, where they will be responsible for violations. When 200 of the worst violators in the city, using Vermont plates, can accumulate $48,000 worth of overdue summonses in nine months, something radical has to be and is being done.

Legitimate out of staters may be hurt in the drive, but the scofflaws were only thinking of "beating the game." If you drive into New York, observe the law and avoid the penalties.

BLACKS FOR NIXON — More than 100 persons, black officials in the Administration and other black supporters of President Nixon, formed a new national organization to concern themselves with Republican policy regarding blacks and getting more blacks into the Administration. They will work with the Republican National Committee for the benefit of both. At the present, they are in search of a name for their group with a political punch.

David Lawrence Says

Preserving the Peace

WASHINGTON — Through the years there have been criticisms and complaints about American forces being in Vietnam. Many people have from time to time been curious to learn why there has been no such loud objection to the stationing of more than 280,000 of our servicemen in western Europe. On the surface, it would appear that there is an inconsistency on the part of those who don't want to see the United States furnishing military help in Asia but nevertheless have raised no protest in the last 20 years to the keeping of our troops in West Germany.

It has been expensive to maintain an American army in Europe for most of the years since World War II ended. The North Atlantic Treaty Organization is designed to deter invasion by the Soviet Union. The nations allied with the United States have been appreciative of the continuous participation by this country in protecting western Europe.

The Russians have an army of more than two million men, and a large number is based in the countries in eastern Europe which are supposed to be independent but where Soviet domination prevails.

Some efforts have been made to help in various ways the nations of the eastern bloc so that they might be emancipated and truly enjoy the freedom of self-government and democracy. But the Soviet Union keeps military forces in these countries, and, though uprisings have occurred, Communist supremacy is retained.

The problems of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe are shared by the United States. Every time there has been a suggestion about reducing the American contingents in Europe and the Mediterranean, the other members of NATO have expressed their desire not to see such steps taken. The basic cause of uneasiness is the fact that a potential aggressor has a big army in eastern Europe.

Efforts are being made to limit armaments, and talks are to be held at Helsinki, Finland, for the purpose of improving relations between eastern and western Europe. Some proposals are being offered that the military forces on both sides in Europe be substantially diminished, but somehow nothing is heard about giving the Communist-bloc countries of eastern Europe a chance to enjoy real independence.

World opinion has been mobilized gradually in the last decade against continuance of the Vietnam war. Over the last five years strenuous efforts have been made by the negotiators in Paris to terminate the battles in Indo-China and start an era of peace.

It may be asked why an analogous situation, with a war of aggression possible at any time in Europe, has not demanded the attention of the same people who have been so concerned about Vietnam. For it isn't solely the cost of the armies maintained by the nations of western Europe and the United States which causes anxiety but the fact that at any time hostilities could break out if an aggressor thought the occasion was opportune for such a move.

Europe has had what is called "peace." But again and again the Soviet troops in eastern Europe and the Communist influence upon the governments in those countries have kept not only Europe but peoples everywhere fearful that possible friction might produce a third world war.

In recent weeks, the Soviets have cut down the size of their naval fleet in the Mediterranean. They also have frequently indicated that they are not too pleased with the feeling between Communist and non-Communist countries and the constant talk of the crises which might emerge at any moment between the east and the west.

The United States has undertaken in the last two years to demonstrate its desire for closer contacts with both Red China and the Soviet Union. The rivalry between Peking and Moscow persists, and Russia has a large army near the Chinese border.

There are many other factors which show why the problem of world peace depends today on a better understanding between the Soviet Union and the other nations of the world and between China and the Soviet Union.

The time has come for the major powers to make an agreement to reduce all standing armies and give convincing evidence of their intention to preserve peace.

Ray Cromley Says

Elite Group Uses Heavy Hand

"WOW-WHEE! I wish I had a Congress that would force ME to spend more and more money!"

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Nixon faces a morale problem of considerable magnitude.

The unhappiness extends to loyal Republican Nixon backers in the government. As one super-grade official put it (himself a dedicated Republican supporter for more than a quarter-century), "You not only must be loyal to Nixon in this administration — but personally loyal to (presidential aides) Haldeman and Ehrlichman too — and that's too much to ask."

There is not doubt Mr. Nixon had a major loyalty problem his first term as President, having kept so many holdovers in high places. There was active sabotage of Nixon programs by high-level employees, both within and without the Civil Service. Mr. Nixon logically decided a housecleaning was in order.

But what a disorganized housecleaning it has been. This is not to question the President's right to remove men at will from those high-ranking policy posts which influence the effectiveness of White House policies. But there is a decent way to let men know their resignations are being accepted, and methods that add up to a slap in the face. As one loyal administration man says (he has been given a promotion in the second term and so has no personal hangup), in too many cases, men have been told they are no longer wanted in ways that have been cold and abrupt, the methods so callous as to disregard the dignity and self-respect of the men involved.

It must be emphasized that the above statement comes from a man who strongly favors the Nixon domestic and foreign objectives and who is held personally in great esteem by the President himself.

The normal approach to departmental reorganization is to start with extended consultations with those men in whom you have confidence in the agency concerned. In some cases the President has followed that route (where the incumbent agency head had the clout to force consideration of his views). But in too many instances this consultation was lacking. The announcements came like bombshells.

From the start, Mr. Nixon has found it most difficult to attract men and women of the highest caliber in the numbers needed to fill the top jobs in government. Why this has been so is not entirely clear. But perhaps the unhappy experiences of some very capable men (who met the three tests of loyalty to the President, Republicanism and ability) has made others leery of taking posts.

For there is a feeling among even high officials in this government that decisions are made by small elite groups and that they and others closely concerned are left in the dark until decisions are announced, even when these decisions affect their departments and their own work significantly.

In some cases men of considerable personal prestige have come to feel rather like messenger boys or paper shufflers.

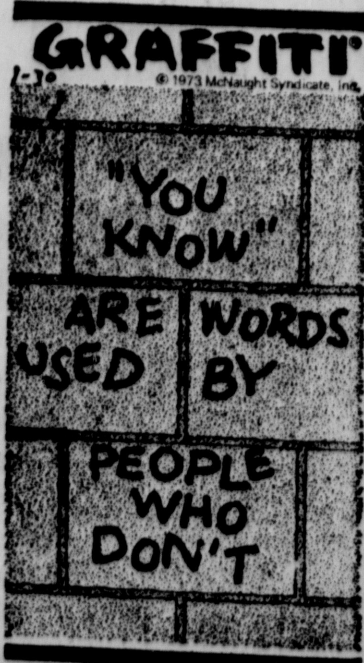

When officials are finally given the White House decision, they frequently are not given the detailed explanation on why that action was ordered or what the precise objectives are.

Sometimes a department head is pushing vigorously along one line in complete sincerity with what he believes complete White House approval, only to wake up one day to find that, at White House instruction, someone else has been working along conflicting lines.

Obstetrics Unit Shutdown ... Many Are in Protest

MARGARETVILLE has been formed to protest the action. There are a number of women in the western section of Ulster County who don't particularly relish a 25-mile cross-country car trip during the last hours and minutes of pregnancy, and that is exactly the reason many are loudly protesting the planned shutdown of the obstetrics unit at Margaretville Memorial Hospital in Delaware County. Hospital officials, citing an overall $250,000 operating deficit, have announced plans to close the unit March 1. The obstetrics unit, officials say, accounts for almost $40,000 of that deficit, and they contend that the number of births it handles each year (55 in 1972) doesn't warrant the continued gap between revenues and expenses. The decision to close the OB unit has not been greeted warmly, especially in the immediate Margaretville area. A committee of concerned citizens on the way, like a breach birth or Caesarean? And you have to remember that the roads up here are pretty bad in the wintertime."

Mrs. Julia Welch of Phoenicia is another who opposes the shutdown of the OB unit. "I think it's a shame," she told The Freeman. "I realize it's a business, but a hospital is supposed to serve the community." And, she added, "if anything should go wrong at the last minute, the extra distance could endanger or take someone's life."

Like most other women in the area, Mrs. Welch was highly complimentary of the OB unit at Margaretville. "Most women would prefer to give birth at home," she said, "but if that isn't possible, the next best thing is a small hospital. I think most of the women around here would much prefer to go to Margaretville than to either of the hospitals in Kingston."

Mrs. Prader concurred. She termed the Margaretville hospital's OB unit "the best within a 50-mile radius" and said it is one of the few in the state to maintain a resident obstetrician and gynecologist. Despite the glowing reputation of its obstetrics unit, the hospital's Board of Directors says it has no choice but to close the unit because it is not operating at the 60 per cent

Kidnap Payoff Fails ... Victim Escapes

JACKSON, Tenn. (UPI) — Bank chairman Charles Arendale twice left $200,000 ransom beside a busy highway to free his kidnapped wife Monday and each time a passerby picked it up before the frustrated extortionist could reach it. Mrs. Arendale freed herself and escaped unharmed.

The bungled extortion attempt began shortly before noon when Arendale, chairman of the board of the Jackson State Bank, received a call telling him that his wife was being held hostage. The extortionist, dressed in a wig, high-heeled shoes and a pair of black women's slacks, had entered the Arendale home while no one was there. Police Chief Harvey Marcum said, and took Mrs. Rebecca L. Arendale hostage when she returned. Bank officials said Arendale negotiated with the caller and agreed to leave $200,000, instead of the $300,000 demanded, at a drop on a highway about 10 miles east of Jackson. After notifying police, Marcum said Arendale put the money in a suitcase and dropped it at the specified location. Shortly after the ransom money was put on the roadside, a Highway Department maintenance worker, whom Marcum declined to identify, happened along and picked up the suitcase. When he found money inside, the surprised worker turned the suitcase over to authorities and Arendale returned to his rambling, ranch-style home in an affluent section of Northwest Jackson to await further instructions.

While the first drop was being made, Marcum said, Mrs. Arendale had freed herself from the belts and ribbons with which she was bound and escaped from the unlocked closet of a partially completed house in a new subdivision. Mrs. Arendale walked to the nearby home of a Jackson police officer, the chief said, and was immediately driven down to police headquarters.

By the time Arendale received a second call from the extortionist, Marcum said, the banker was aware that his wife had escaped unharmed, but her abductor apparently was not.

Authorities attempted to set a trap for her abductor on the second drop and, when the banker left the suitcase of money on the road, officers were waiting for the pickup.

But the suitcase was picked up by a "curious motorist," who was immediately surrounded by law enforcement officers. He was found to have no connection with the case.

A statewide alert was issued for the abductor, thought to have been driving Mrs. Arendale's green 1971 Pontiac, and the FBI joined the search.

New York Police Speedup Ordered

NEW YORK (AP) — A speedup in a program to put 6,000 more policemen on the street has been ordered in the wake of recent ambushes on two patrol cars blamed by police on a loose-knit clique of black revolutionaries.

Hundreds of detectives and plainclothesmen on overtime combed neighborhoods Monday in search of five men and a woman wanted for questioning in the surprise attacks Thursday in Brooklyn and Sunday in Queens.

Photographs and descriptions of the suspects were posted in every police station and additional copies were being distributed to foot patrolmen and radio car crews.

During a swearing-in ceremony for 200 recruits at the Police Academy, Mayor John V. Lindsay announced that the target date for beefing up the police force had been moved ahead from June 30, 1974 to the end of this year.

The current police force totals 29,571. The program is designed to recruit 3,150 new patrolmen and to hire 2,500 civilian clerical workers who will relieve uniformed policemen for active duty.

In each of the two recent shootings, patrolmen sitting in cruisers were attacked without warning by men who pumped as many as 50 shots from automatic weapons at them and fled in cars.

None of the four policemen received serious injuries.

Police Commissioner Patrick V. Murphy said the acts were committed by a small group of black revolutionaries "who are determined to kill policemen."

Controversial Dye Under Attack

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A controversial red dye, used in everything from lipstick to soft drinks and pill coatings, was under attack today from two fronts which claim it may represent a threat to human reproduction.

Consumer Reports Magazine in its new issue published a lengthy report on the substance—called Red Dye No. 2—and recommended that it be banned until a complete study can be made.

The recommendations came as the Food and Drug Administration began reviewing a petition from the Health Research Group of Washington, a Ralph Nader-backed organization which asked the FDA to stop certifying the substance.

In both cases the critics cited studies which purported to show that animals fed the dye suffered impaired reproduction and increased infant mortality.

Last July 4 the FDA proposed that limits be placed on the amount of dye in food products, and allowed a period of time for comment on the idea. That time period expired last September and no final decision has yet been announced.

The FDA could offer no hint on when a decision might be coming.

The Health Research Group petition said "very recent" Russian tests showed that female animals fed the dye suffered increased fetal deaths, impaired milk production and a still born rate of one in seven.

The dye is the most widely used food coloring in the nation. It shows up in soft drinks—such as cherry and strawberry—and gelatin desserts, candy, baked goods, chewing gum, ice cream and pet food.

Until the FDA acts, women, especially pregnant women, should be warned against using products which contain the dye, according to Sidney Wolfe, a physician associated with the Health Research Group. He wrote to Dr. Sprague Gardner, president of Indiana University, president of the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology, asking him to urge members of the college to warn their drugs or cosmetics with the dye.

Fire Damages Esopus House

WEST PARK — $1,500 worth of damage to the attic of the frame home. Firemen were recalled at 5 a.m.

Fire Commissioner James Southworth said the fire apparently originated in defective wiring in the attic of the home, which was undergoing extensive remodeling.

The couple and their two children reportedly went to Poughkeepsie to stay with relatives until the house can be repaired.

LARGEST BANANA SPLIT — Billed as "The World's Largest Banana Split," this mile-long string of banana splits was built as part of the fun during the annual St. Paul Winter Carnival in Maplewood, Minn. with people buying tickets at $1 each to take a taste. The proceeds were given to the North Star Chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Minnesota. To make the string of ice cream desserts took about 33,000 scoops of ice cream, 10,580 bananas, 255 gallons of topping and 94 gallons of whipped cream. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

2 Catholics Killed In Ulster Violence

BELFAST (AP) — Two Roman Catholics were killed, three persons were wounded and the head office of a major shipyard was bombed Monday night as Ulster's communal violence raged on.

A 22-year-old father of two was shot four times at a Belfast service station by gunmen in a car that he was filling with gas. The other Catholic killed was a 15-year-old boy who was shot from a passing car as he stood in the doorway of his widowed mother's Belfast shop. Another 15-year-old with him was hit and reported in serious condition.

The killings brought to 639 the number of persons known to have died in 3½ years of riot and then dumped from a religious strife.

A 24-year-old Catholic was car in Dungannon, County Tyrone, but his wound was not serious. A Protestant was wounded outside his home in Carrickfergus, north of Belfast, by a gunman who escaped.

Fifty pounds of explosives badly damaged the main office building of Belfast's Harland and Wolff shipyard, one of the biggest in the United Kingdom. No injuries were reported.

In the Irish Republic to the south, two more leaders of the Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army were jailed for six months for belonging to the outlawed organization. They were Martin McGuinness, 22, who headed the Provos in Londonderry, and Joseph McCallion, 27, one of the McGuinness' lieutenants.

They were arrested Jan. 13 near the border with Northern Ireland. Police said they had 250 pounds of explosives and 4,000 rounds of ammunition in their car.

Director Resigns Post

KINGSTON — Marc B. Adin has reportedly resigned as project director of the Foster Grandparent Program of the Ulster County Community Action Committee.

Mrs. Malinda Davis, head of Senior Citizens Programs and Services for CAC, said she was unable to comment on Adin's reported resignation because CAC has not yet been officially notified. Adin, who has not been in the office since Friday, could not be reached for comment.

The federally funded foster grandparent program matches up volunteer senior citizens and emotionally disturbed children in Ulster and Northern Dutchess Counties in an attempt to aid the children in solving their emotional problems.

Jury Completed For Brown Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — Selection of a 12-juror panel has been completed in the trial of black militant H. Rap Brown on attempted murder, robbery and other charges.

Four alternate jurors remain to be picked before testimony can commence.

Paul Richey, an advertising agency representative, was sworn in Monday as the 12th juror in the trial before Justice Arnold G. Fraiman in State Supreme Court. The panel consists of 11 men and one woman—two blacks and 10 whites.

Brown and three codefendants from St. Louis are accused of wounding several policemen in a shootout that followed a holdup at a West Side bar on Oct. 16, 1971.

License Deadline

Sergeant Joseph Feraca Sr. of the Esopus Town Police reminds dog owners that the deadline for dog licenses is Feb. 1. Untagged dogs will be picked up by dog wardens Clarence Bowman and James Freer, Feraca said. He also reminded dog owners that Esopus has a dog control ordinance requiring owners to have their pets on a leash or in control at all times, and that violations will result in a summons.

Economic Indicators Show Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's index of leading economic indicators, which are supposed to measure ups and downs in the economy, rose strongly in December, the Commerce Department said today.

The 2.2-per cent rise last month came on top of a November increase of 2.3 per cent, making the fourth quarter of last year one of the strongest in the past 13 years, the department said.

The report confirmed other economic reports showing that the nation's economic performance is continuing strong.

Dr. Peter C. Manus, acting assistant Commerce secretary for economic affairs, said the recent strength in the indicators "suggests that the U.S. economy will continue to expand rapidly throughout this year. This is consistent with most economic forecasts for 1973."

The composite index has climbed steadily since its low point in late 1970, the department said. It now stands at 155.6 per cent of the 1967 base year.

Man Arrested For Setting Fire

PLEASANTVILLE, N.J. (AP) — State Police have charged a young Baltimore man with arson in connection with a fire at a rest home that took the lives of 10 elderly residents.

Harry Kemp, 22, was arrested late Monday and is under guard at Somers Point Hospital for treatment of burns he suffered in the fire.

Kemp was one of six residents of Street's Rest Home who escaped the fire in the two-story, wood-frame building, along with two employees.

Four of the victims of the fire on Monday were women, one 106 years old. The other victims were in their 70s and 80s.

Deputy Fire Chief Walt S. Schlundt said an alarm system connected to the fire department failed to go off, but occupants of the home who fled safely said an internal alarm did sound.

Youth 'Fair' After Mishan

TOWN OF ATHENS — James Taranto Jr. 20, Franklin Street, Athens, is in fair condition at Greene County Memorial Hospital today with injuries suffered while riding a snowmobile Monday night.

Leeds State Police said that Taranto was riding in a field adjacent to the Schöharle Turnpike in the Town of Athens at 9:15 p.m. when his snowmobile struck a hidden stump, throwing him from the machine.

Taranto reportedly suffered a crushed pelvis, broken ribs, internal injuries, and lacerations of the face, legs and stomach.

Meanwhile, a Town of Hyde Park woman was taken to Northern Dutchess Hospital in Rhinebeck Monday afternoon after a two-car crash on Old Post Road near the Primrose Hill Road in the Town of Hyde Park.

Rhinebeck State Police said that Mrs. Marie E. Binschler, 56, of Primrose Hill Road, was hospitalized with back injuries after her car was in collision with a vehicle operated by Floyd L. Boloe, 54, of 98 Inwood Avenue, Poughkeepsie. Boloe was not injured.

Deadline Near On Dog Licenses

KINGSTON — Wednesday is the deadline for city dog owners to secure licenses for their animals, the city clerk's office warned today. The fee for males and spayed females is $2.35 and the cost for a (unspayed) female is $5.35. All dogs over the age of six months must be licensed.

The city clerk's office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Destruction of USA Plotted in 1919!!

Fifty-four years ago, in May 1919 at Dusseldorf, Germany the Allied Forces came upon the "COMMUNIST RULES FOR REVOLUTION."

Here they are:

A. Corrupt the young,
get them away from religion.
Get them interested in sex.
Make them superficial, destroy their ruggedness.

B. Get control of all means of publicity thereby:

1. Get people's minds off their government by focusing attention on athletics, sexy books, plays and other trivialities.
2. Divide the people into hostile groups by constantly harping on controversial matters of no importance.
3. Destroy the people's faith in their natural leaders by holding them up to contempt, ridicule and obloquy.
4. Always preach true democracy, but seize power as fast and as ruthlessly as possible.
5. By encouraging government extravagance, destroy its credit, produce fear of inflation with rising prices and general discontent.
6. Foment unnecessary strikes in vital industries, encourage civil disorders and foster lenient and soft attitude on the part of government toward such disorders.
7. By specious argument cause the breakdown of the old moral virtues, honesty, sobriety, continence, faith in the pledged word, ruggedness.

C. Cause the registration of all firearms on some pretext with a view to confiscating them and leaving the population helpless.

There you have it . . . it's 54 years old and apparently going well. Take time to think seriously about our imperfect but wonderful United States of America. Fifty-four years ago it seemed remote but THINK upon the situation today . . . frightening . . . and what are YOU doing to reverse the trend back to our great and good country?

Sapp Completes 25 Years on Kingston PD

LOUIS W. SAPP

KINGSTON
Jan. 1 marked the completion of 25 years of service with the Kingston Police Department for veteran Patrolman Louis W. Sapp.

Sapp, who resides at 80 Clinton Avenue, joined the department Jan. 1, 1948, after having served as a special patrolman for two years previously.

Born in Kingston, Sapp attended School No. 7 and Kingston High School and also worked for Montgomery Ward before becoming a policeman.

He is a veteran of service with the U.S. Navy, having served during World War II in the European Theater of Operations aboard the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Intrepid. He was discharged with the rank of aviation machinist's mate second class.

Sapp is married to the former Patricia Oulton of Kingston. They are the parents of five children, Mrs. Susan McCarthy of Poughkeepsie, Mrs. Mary Lou Madrick of Newburgh, and Kevin, 16, Patrick, 11, and Ann, 9, all at home.

Sapp, who has worked for the past five years on the traffic detail, will be honored by fellow officers of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association at a dinner in the near future. He is a former vice president, secretary, and financial secretary of the association.

Do-It-Yourself Television for Area Libraries

POUGHKEEPSIE
Do-it-yourself television will be introduced to patrons of libraries in the Mid-Hudson Valley sponsored by the Mid-Hudson Library System in cooperation with local member libraries with partial support of the Visiting Artists' Program and the Film Video Bureau.

According to Leon Karpel, director of the Mid-Hudson Library System, orientation and demonstration programs will take place at six centrally located member libraries in a five-county area, including Kingston and New Paltz in Ulster County.

"The public will have an opportunity to view new and inexpensive ways to record on videotape, including subjects or events of local interest, for instant playback on any television set," he said.

Experienced producers will show the various techniques and uses of videotaping. Karpel stated that the programs would have particular interest to persons in the fields of communications, education, ecology and local history.

Libraries where showings will take place are:

Eltine Memorial Library, New Paltz, Monday, Feb. 5, 7 p.m., and Monday, Feb. 26, 7 p.m.; Advance Memorial Library, Poughkeepsie, Friday, Feb. 16, 2:30 p.m., and Friday, March 2, 2:30 p.m.; Catskill Public Library, Catskill, Wednesday, Feb. 21, 7:30 p.m., and Wednesday, March 14, 7:30 p.m.; Brewster Public Library, Brewster, Monday, Feb. 26, 7 p.m., and Tuesday, March 6, 2:30 p.m.; and Kingston Area Library, Kingston, Monday, March 5, 2:30 p.m., and Thursday, March 8, 7:30 p.m.

Date and show time for the Hudson Area Library, Hudson, will be announced.

Dinner Plans Being Finalized

KINGSTON
Plans are being finalized for a retirement dinner to honor Mrs. Rosemary Jones.

Mrs. Jones retired from the Kingston City School System Dec. 31 after serving 31 years as a secretary to the school board and superintendent of schools. The dinner will be held Saturday, March 4, at the Governor Clinton Hotel. There will be a cocktail hour at 5 p.m. with dinner at 6 p.m.

Making the arrangements are Mrs. Evelyn Corones, school board member, gift chairman; Mrs. Edna Morgan, district treasurer, invitations chairman; Mrs. Althea Odell, director of art, decorations chairman; Mrs. Linda Hoffman, secretary, publicity chairman, and William Turcotte, associate superintendent, ticket chairman.

Reis Elected Excelsior Hose President

KINGSTON

Fire Commissioner Fred Reis was elected president of Excelsior Hose Co., No. 4 at the recent annual meeting at the fire company rooms, Hurley Avenue.

Others elected were Lauren Stoutenburg Jr., vice president; John L. Machione, secretary; Albert Hobush, treasurer; A. James Burns, John Buzzanco and Lauren Stoutenburg Jr., trustees. The Rev. Robert Shellenverger was appointed chaplain.

Line officers elected for the year were Michael P. Douglas Sr., captain; Frank Hogan, first lieutenant and Wilber Delaney, second lieutenant.

John L. Machione was named delegate and A. James Burns, alternate, to the Firemen's Association of the State of New York; Albert Hobush, delegate and Robert H. Smith, alternate to the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association; Michael Douglas Sr., John Buzzanco, Lauren Stoutenburg and William Knowles, delegates to the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association; John Buzzanco, Michael Douglas and Frank Hogan, delegates to the Kingston Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Chief Williams Issues Report For Ulster No. 5

TOWN OF ULSTER

Ulster Hose Company No. 5 responded to 135 alarms during 1972, according to a year-end report issued by Chief William Williams.

Williams said that an analysis of alarms during the year revealed that the company answered as many calls for motor vehicle fires as for building fires.

The most serious blaze fought by the company, which is located on Ulster Avenue Mall, occurred on March 24 when fire destroyed a one-story building on the Miron property just off the East Chester Street bypass.

Average response to night calls was 22 and to daytime alarms 14. Williams said more members are needed to cover daytime hours, particularly drivers.

During the year Ulster Hose began operations under a new alert system operated by the Ulster County Bureau of Fire. Under this system, the county dispatcher receives all alarms and dispatches the company by use of a tone encoder which activates the fire siren and individual home alert receivers. Fire commissioners in the district have purchased 20 portable, battery-operated receivers that will operate even during power failures. Williams said the new alerting system was "a great success" and noted that firemen could take the receivers along wherever they go, enabling them to learn details about the fire and its location before reporting to the station.

During the year the fire commissioners put into service a 1972 Mack Diesel pumper at the Glenrie Fire Station. The truck has a 1,250-gallon per minute pump and a 500 gallon booster tank, and replaces a 1947 Ward LaFrance truck. A 1961 Dodge van truck also was put into service as a fire police unit and mobile canteen after being rebuilt from a mail van by firemen, Williams reported.

Bard Adding to Library

ANNANDALE-ON-HUDSON president, announced today a $500,000 fund raising drive for Bard's Twelfth Decade Fund Drive initiated last year. More than half of the cost already is pledged with a challenge gift of $100,000 from Dr. Flint Kellogg of Carlisle, Pa., a 1931 graduate; another $108,000 from other donors; and a pledge for the final $50,000 from a New York foundation.

BARD COLLEGE LIBRARY

The library was built in Greek temple style in 1892, with a collection of five thousand volumes serving its 75 to 100 students. Student enrollment is now 750 and the college book collection is 117,000 volumes, with 4,000 added each year. The library, an area landmark, underwent interior renovations in the 1960's which made it a four-level building, but some books must be stored in other campus buildings and only 84 students can work at one time in study areas, Kline said. The addition will be on the wall away from the main campus to avoid detracting from the building's classic colonnade. The additional will be tied in at several levels to the present building, with minimum interference with library use during construction. When the two structures are integrated they will provide seating for 250, more stack space, reference and periodical rooms and space for microfilm equipment and other modern tools of library science. Also planned are rooms for the college's rare-book collection and much-needed office and work space for staff members.

Ford LTD Brougham 2-Door Hardtop
Options shown: Power-operated Sunroof, WSW steel-belted radial ply tires, remote control right-hand mirror, front cornering lamps, deluxe bumper group, deluxe wheel covers and vinyl top.

Ford Galaxie 500 4-Door Hardtop
Options shown: Steel-belted radial ply white sidewall tires, bumper group, wheel covers, rocker panel moldings, vinyl top and Ford Motor Company exclusive Power Mini-vent Windows.

The closer you look, the better we look.

Two unbiased panels of auto experts took a close look at all the '73 cars. Tested them thoroughly. Based upon these tests...

Ford won "Car of the Year" in Road Test's competition.

Ford LTD won "Full-size Sedan of the Year" in Motor Trend's competition.

A close look shows why restyled Fords (LTD's and Galaxie 500's) won top awards. Motor Trend said, "The clincher was Ford's stock in trade: a super-quiet interior, isolation from noise." Standard luxuries scored big: 351 V-8, automatic transmission, power steering and brakes, power ventilation, bodyside moldings, and more. You'll like the spacious Ford Front Room. Full-length door armrests. Plush carpeting.

New instrument panel for maximum driver and passenger convenience.

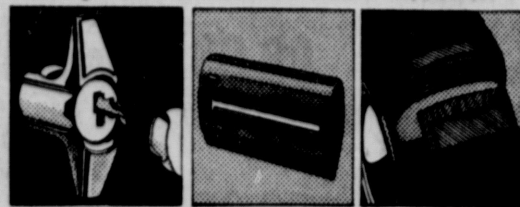

Optional better ideas: Fingertip Speed Control, Select-Aire Conditioner plus Automatic Temperature Control. AM/FM Stereo Radio with Tape Player and dual speakers front and rear.

New super-size glove compartment.

Remote control right-hand mirror. Power Mini-vents.

More for '73. A glove box bigger than any of Ford's standard-size competitors. Options like a remote control right-hand mirror that's driver adjustable. Power Mini-vents on 4-Door Fords. An improved electric rear window defroster.

New Anti-theft Alarm System. Side-door Steel Guard Rails. Steel-belted radial ply tires.

For driving peace of mind... optional steel-belted radial ply tires. Standard safety features include side-door Steel Guard Rails, an Energy Absorbing Bumper System, and more. And there's a new optional Anti-theft Alarm System. So much is new we invite your close look. Road Test calls the '73 Ford "the finest family car to be found at its price in showrooms today."

Quiet is the sound of a well-made car.

Paltz Village Board Kills Housing Plan

By WADE BURKHART

NEW PALTZ The New Paltz Village Board killed a proposed 100-unit housing project Monday night by refusing to approve the signing of a memorandum of intent with the State Urban Development Corporation.

The board voted against the project three votes to one vote yes, with Trustee John Logan the only yes vote, and Trustees John Sherwig and George Ackert and Mayor Henry W. DuBois voting no. Trustee O. Lincoln Igou was absent.

If the project had been approved, UDC, in conjunction with a private developer of their selection, would have developed a 7.9 acre site at the junction of Mulberry and Church Streets in the village. On the site would have been 70 units of senior citizen housing, and 30 units of moderate income family housing. The project would have cost $2.3 million, according to UDC estimates.

In rejecting the UDC project, which has been in the planning stages for some months, the board followed the wishes of the New Paltz-Gardiner Senior Citizens and the New Paltz Homeowners Association.

The Homeowners sent a letter to the board against the project, basing their opposition on a lack of benefit to the homeowners and taxpayers of New Paltz. Daniel Keane, a UDC representative at Monday night's meeting, said it was true the project would not benefit homeowners and taxpayers—the project was designed to benefit senior citizens, Keane said.

The main cause of the senior citizens opposition was UDC procedure. John Guttman, president of the seniors' club, said the seniors attitude toward the project was like a person's attitude toward marriage. "Let me see the bride," said Guttman, "we haven't seen the bride."

According to Keane, and he said it several times, it is not UDC policy to have any architectural work, even to the extent of having a site plan drawn, until a memorandum of understanding is signed by the municipality. After the memorandum is signed, in which UDC and the municipality jointly agree to build the housing project, UDC has the plans drawn and submits them to public hearing.

Once the municipality signs the memorandum, the final say on whether the project gets built or not rests with UDC. Keane said as a practical matter that heavy community opposition at a public hearing kills a project, and two projects were recently scrapped in the Binghamton area because of community opposition.

The senior citizens wanted a site plan before the village board voted to sign the memorandum. Guttman said the board was being asked to vote on a "very well-wrapped surprise package."

"We actually have nothing to go by," said Guttman, and he reported that it had been a unanimous decision of his organization to withhold approval of the project until more information was supplied by UDC. Keane said there could be no more information because the plans for the site had not yet been drawn up.

James DeSandis, a founder of the New Paltz-Gardiner Senior Citizens and that organization's first president, questioned UDC studies which had shown a need for the project. DeSandis said interest in senior citizen housing was very low in his organization.

Logan said the people who were most in need of the project were least likely to join clubs or go to meetings.

Guttman was pressed for a recommendation by Sherwig on how Sherwig should vote, and he finally recommended he vote no on the basis of the lack of information available.

Committee 'Life' Extended

By WADE BURKHART

NEW PALTZ The New Paltz Village Board extended the life of its Committee on Local Government, and voted to put $400 in the 1973-74 village budget for its expenses, at its meeting Monday night, but not before receiving a recommendation from the New Paltz League of Women Voters to scrap the present committee and start over again.

The committee, formed in October by the board to study possible alternatives to the present form of government in New Paltz, submitted both majority and minority reports at Monday night's meeting.

The majority report, submitted by Village Trustee John Logan who chairs the committee and signed by five other committee members, said the committee had met seven times and had heard a number of expert witnesses. According to the majority report, a taped record is being kept of the committee's proceedings, and the committee's records will be available to the public after the committee is disbanded.

The majority report noted that none of the witnesses had recommended disincorporation for the Village of New Paltz. The New Paltz LWV has recommended disincorporation, and has published a study resulting in that recommendation. The majority reports said the LWV study had "... a lack of accuracy, some misinformation, and a suggestion of bias against the village." The League of Women Voters should be ashamed of themselves."

The minority report was filed by Mrs. Sally Rhoads, the LWV representative on the committee, and Mrs. Helen Karsten. The minority report said the committee had only met six times, its name was actually the Municipal Research Committee, not enough experts had been heard, no one had recommended against disincorporation, and no useful record of the proceedings had been kept.

The minority report recommended the present committee be disbanded and a new one appointed, with specific goals, published minutes, accountant trained in municipal affairs, and no village or town officials serving as voting members.

Mrs. Martha Stein, of the LWV, read a prepared LWV statement calling for the disbanding of the present committee, saying it has "not carried out its duties."

The LWV statement said the committee's meetings had consisted of "rambling chats and unfounded speculation," and said the appointment of the committee "seems to have been merely a gesture to satisfy the League's public request."

The LWV statement said the LWV representative was being withdrawn from the committee, and would not be back as long as the committee was constituted as it is presently.

In his report to the board, Village Attorney J. Philip Zand informed the board that he had that day instituted a suit against the Town of New Paltz to get back highway fund taxes paid by village residents.

Zand said after the meeting the suit was to be heard in Albany State Supreme Court at a special term Feb. 23 at 9:30 a.m.

The village is seeking to be wholly exempt from paying for Items 3 and 4 of the town highway budget. Item 3 is for machinery, and Item 4 is mainly for snow removal. The village is contending that the town is permitted to exempt the village from these taxes under the law, and it should in New Paltz case because village residents are getting no benefit from the money they are paying.

Zand said the total the village is seeking to recover is $31,670.

The board set the following dates: Feb. 20, Grievance Day; Feb. 24, Registration Day; March 20, Election Day. All will be held in the Village Hall.

Dutchess Commissioner Named Representative

POUGHKEEPSIE Dutchess County Commissioner of Mental Hygiene Dr. Lawrence Sweeney has been unanimously selected by the State Department of Mental Hygiene's Mid-Hudson Area Committee to serve as its representative on the newly formed State Policy Committee.

This committee, set up by Dr. Alan D. Killer, Commissioner of Mental Hygiene for the state, will constitute the primary advisory body to the commissioner on all matters pertaining to the development of department-wide policies and will also be responsible for reviewing all major new proposed changes in department policies.

The Mid-Hudson Area Committee is one of 14 in the state. Members are county commissioners of mental health and directors of state institutions in the area.

The Mid-Hudson Committee is comprised of officials from Dutchess, Ulster, Westchester, Putnam, Sullivan, Orange, and Rockland Counties.

According to Dr. Sweeney, this new committee should open the door for greater communication between the Albany office and local representatives.

He said that the committee may establish ad hoc technical committees, as well as citizen task forces for greater community involvement and participation in Department of Mental Hygiene progress.

The State Policy Committee will act in the interests of the entire state and will concern itself with what policies will be most effective for urban, as well as suburban and rural, areas.

Several large state mental institutions are located in Dutchess County, including Hudson River State Hospital, and Kingdale, and Wassaic state schools.

The village is seeking to be wholly exempt from paying for Items 3 and 4 of the town highway budget. Item 3 is for machinery, and Item 4 is mainly for snow removal. The village is contending that the town is permitted to exempt the village from these taxes under the law, and it should in New Paltz case because village residents are getting no benefit from the money they are paying.

Zand said the total the village is seeking to recover is $31,670.

The board set the following dates: Feb. 20, Grievance Day; Feb. 24, Registration Day; March 20, Election Day. All will be held in the Village Hall.

Youth Board Director ... 'VD at Epidemic Stage'

POUGHKEEPSIE "VD has reached epidemic proportions in our country," stated Dutchess County Youth Executive Director Freda Casner this week in a letter to Dr. Arthur J. Robbins, acting Health Commissioner.

She said, "I wish to congratulate you and those of the County Health Department who are responsible for the disease."

opening of a weekly venereal disease clinic, Thursdays, at 6 p.m., at the Department of Health offices on the fourth floor of the County Office Building.

Mrs. Casner noted that "VD can maim, even kill, but not if this discovered and treated in time. We can no longer afford the Victorian taboos that keep a veil of silence on the shocking prevalence of this disease."

She explained that the incidence of VD is highest in the 15-30 age group, and that a clinic with after-school and after-work hours represents an important and decisive effort in alleviating "this new plague."

The youth Board will make every effort to publicize this clinic to youth in and out of school," she promised.

In accordance with state law, minors requesting diagnosis and/or treatment are accorded strict confidentiality. Young people who have reason to suspect they are infected should contact the Health Department or contact the clinic.

The village is seeking to be wholly exempt from paying for Items 3 and 4 of the town highway budget. Item 3 is for machinery, and Item 4 is mainly for snow removal. The village is contending that the town is permitted to exempt the village from these taxes under the law, and it should in New Paltz case because village residents are getting no benefit from the money they are paying.

Zand said the total the village is seeking to recover is $31,670.

The board set the following dates: Feb. 20, Grievance Day; Feb. 24, Registration Day; March 20, Election Day. All will be held in the Village Hall.

DCC Satellite Program ... Free Instruction

A new Dutchess Community College "satellite" program in the Pine Plains area will offer credit-free instruction during the spring term — the first branch of DCC to open up north of Poughkeepsie.

Other offerings are available in the Harlem Valley; at several state hospitals; in Beacon at Castle Point VA Hospital; and other off-campus spots around Poughkeepsie.

More than 20 elementary and junior high school faculty members from the Pine Plains School District have registered for a 12-week introduction to the psychological and social aspects of human sexuality.

Faculty members taking the instruction are expected to receive in-service training credit. Instructors for the Thursday evening discussion series is Mrs. Sally Klein, assistant professor of health education at DCC. Serving as co-instructor is Brian T. Woodward, a school psychologist. Participants will discuss current issues relating to sexuality and the need for more pertinent communication among parents, children, young adults, and teachers.

A second section of "Human Sexuality" will be offered on the DCC campus beginning Feb. 14.

Both the credit-free satellite program and the on-campus course are offered as services of the college's continuing education program. Further information may be obtained by calling 471-4500, ext. 241.

Annual Meeting Held Recently at Home for Aged

The annual meeting of the Board of Managers of the Home for the Aged was held on Thursday, Jan. 25. Highlighting the afternoon was the introduction of three new members, elected to fill vacancies on the 24 member women Board.

Mrs. Stanley E. Hankinson, Mrs. Irvin H. Etchells and Mrs. Joseph J. Conrad were elected to replace the terms of Mrs. G. Herbert DeKay, Mrs. James B. Shelhorse and Mrs. Gilbert F. Hoppenstedt. Annual reports were presented by the various chairmen, and a review of the ladies generous contributions and activities, for the residents, was presented in the form of a letter to the Board of Trustees, by Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool, recording secretary.

The annual meeting was chaired by president, Mrs. William E. Ryland, who announced the following officers and committees: first vice president, Mrs. John R. Shults Jr.; second vice president, Mrs. George W. Schneider; third vice president, Mrs. Allan M. Dumas; recording secretary, Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Louis J. Smith; treasurer, Mrs. William F. Carvell Jr.; good cheer treasurer, Mrs. Milton M. Grover.

Committee chairman and those who will serve throughout the year are: applications: chairman, Mrs. Allan M. Dumas; Mrs. Clifford M. Henze; Mrs. Charles Lee; audit: chairman, Mrs. Roy M. Sutliff; Mrs. Louis J. Smith; burial: chairman, Mrs. Peter D. Corsones, Mrs.

Alfred J. Bruckert Sr., Mrs. Robert C. Lonergan; house and purchasing: chairman, Mrs. Bernard A. Feeney Sr., Mrs. Kenneth H. Wood, Mrs. S. B. Schwarzwaelder; hospitality: chairman, Mrs. Charles Lee, Mrs. Henry J. Bruck Sr., Mrs. Allan M. Dumas, Mrs. Stanley E. Hankinson, Mrs. Burton L. Haver, Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool; visiting: chairman, Mrs. Sam S. Peppoe, Mrs. Joseph J. Conrad, Mrs. Irving H. Etchells, Mrs. Stanley E. Hankinson, Mrs. George W. Schneider, Mrs.

John R. Shults Jr., membership: chairman, Mrs. Milton M. Grover, Mrs. Louis J. Smith. Public relations will be handled by Mrs. George C. Rifenbary.

The special committee for the Home's Annual Donation Day will be chaired by Mrs. John R. Shults Jr., assisted by Mrs. George W. Schneider.

The president announced that special gala supper parties, during the confining winter months, have been held for the residents. The January party was hosted by Mrs. Peter D. Corsones and Mrs. Milton M. Grover. On February 18, Mrs. Charles Lee and her committee will host another event, which is a joyous occasion for the ladies and gentlemen, and was initiated last year. Entertainment is also provided in the form of musical renditions, group singing or movies.

Another innovation is the custom of honoring the monthly birthday celebrants at a special birthday party. This is so enthusiastically received, that on the third Wednesday of each month these parties are held. Special surprises and games are also included. Husband's of members of the Board, when able, participate in these festivities.

Mrs. Ryland also announced that she would welcome donations of china cups and saucers for the Home, for the special parties that are held, and to replenish their dwindling supply for these festive occasions.

Mrs. Dean M. Kintner, was elected to the Associate Membership list.

In her report to the Board of Managers, Mrs. Ryland paid special tribute to Leland Rasmason, Administrator of the Home, for the intense interest he has shown for the welfare of all the guests, and the excellent management of the Home. Mrs. Ryland also expressed her appreciation for the time and efforts given by the ladies on the Board of Managers and the cooperation extended by the Board of Trustees. The ladies meet each month, with the exception of the month's of July and August, and are responsible for providing the personal and necessary items for the comfort and welfare of the residents.

Exercise and Proper Eating Can Retard Aging Process

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeature Writer

Senility can't be reversed, but people can be helped to avoid the traps of aging. That's the message from Dr. William Goldwag who is working on the problem.

Goldwag gave up a 17-year family medical practice in Ossining, N.Y., where his elderly patients provided him with the impetus to pursue his interest in aging. He has done research in Europe and for 18 months has been associated with the revitalization therapies of Dr. Ivan Popov, medical director of Renaissance at Nassau, who is well-known abroad.

There is a big difference between chronological science and physiological genetics, Goldwag observed. The psychology of aging also is important because how you visualize yourself determines many things in a society that regards aging as horrible. Eighty-year-olds who ignore the calendar can function like forty-year-olds but he has observed forty-year-olds who act like octogenarians.

Many aspects of aging are elusive to medical science, including the big one — what really causes aging — but great inroads are being made and you can stay younger far beyond your chronological years with knowledge elicited in recent years.

What are the things that can keep us from aging prematurely?

Eating living foods, exercising to stress muscles, learning new things to sharpen our memories, avoiding stresses and ultraviolet rays of the sun, and developing an inner something (they can't pin it down) that involved optimism, hope and faith puts one in control of his body. Dr. Goldwag says:

"In observing the elderly in nursing homes, saw brilliant minds of engineers, lawyers, others, vegetating within a short time, even though the people were in their prime. Society persuades people that are finished at a certain point

... and they are psyched into believing it, a tremendous waste of brain power and creative thinking. Young people cannot replace them because a great benefit of age is experience and the ability to apply what has been learned to new things.

"Nursing homes concentrate on distracting patients from the fact they are slowly dying. It is sad because it isn't necessary that our memories deteriorate. Recent memories suffer when new things aren't being learned. The normal thing should be to look forward to new activity at retirement and to consider ourselves functional to the end."

The whole system needs changing, he comments, but where do you start? In addition to having their lifelines cut, the indigent can bankrupt young people. Then, too, millions are spent by governments to regenerate the elderly; whereas the money might be spent on preventive medicine. It should begin in one's prime, preferably by age 30, but it is never too late to begin.

Here are some ideas you might put into practice in your own life, he advises:

... Eat living foods — yeast, fruits, vegetables, meat, fish, poultry, cheese. Eat young forms of life that are still developing and have growth substances in them. As soon as you sever the source of life, the food begins to die. Fish can be eaten fresher than meat, which often is eaten long after it has begun to deteriorate. If one can't get fresh vegetables one should grow some at home in pots — radishes, onions, etc.

Choose whole foods rather than segments. Whole wheat is preferable to white flour, which discards the wheat germ.

"It is conceit to feel we can extract out of a plant or anything else what nature provided in the entirety," Goldwag commented. Medical science has even gone back to using the whole plant rather than the extract for digitalis.

Natural foods should be preferred to vitamin pills unless they are medically prescribed, he observed. Present the body with natural substances and it will throw off what it doesn't want. Load it with vitamin pills and it may be forced to accept what it doesn't need. If one were to eat the large amount of food represented by the concentration in the pill, one might be warned by becoming ill.

The cheapest yeast food is bread, he pointed out. A cake of yeast (the kind used for baking) is the best natural source of vitamins, in his opinion. (For palatability Renaissance puts it in beer.) Keep it in the refrigerator and chip off a piece a couple of times a week.

Vitamin C and E foods are thought to be antistress and antioxidant and may play a definite role in slowing the aging process, he explained.

"C" foods include citrus fruits, peppers, turnip greens, broccoli, kale. Raw fruit is a good source because cooking destroys some of the vitamin.

"E" is in green lettuce, other green leaves, wheat germ, the oils of seeds (corn, etc.).

Our aim should be to improve the body's ability to resist stress that we are exposed to physically, mentally, bacterially. Smoke pollution, radiation, food additives increase the rate of oxidation reactions creating stress on our bodies. Over the years he has often noticed that the faces of heavy smokers are deeply wrinkled.

... Avoid the ultra-violet radiation, which is aging, by avoiding sun between 10 and 3 in climates where the sun is strong, unless you are completely covered or coated with a sun screen substance which will help filter the rays.

... Discover your inner powers. Goldwag is not religious but he commented "we are using the bare minimum of our capacities." He has seen great physical disability overcome "by plain people" who have ascribed the healing to God. He believes they have called upon a capacity within themselves that everybody has.

"Doctors are trying to tap it electronically, teaching people how to control inner functions — heart rate, intestinal activity, blood pressure. Almost anybody can do this, but we don't even know how to train people to find the answers."

... Exercise each day to keep your body from deteriorating. Walking is the simplest form. Vigorous exercise is a tranquilizer... people who relax best "have the most control of their muscles."

"Exercise carries waste materials out of the body with water... it improves the quality of skin, a fantastic organ which is always perspiring, by letting it function as a waste disposer along with the kidneys."

"The trick is to make every part of your body function at its peak all the time. You don't single out one segment to treat," he advises.

At Renaissance many biological methods are used for therapeutic effects. Sleep therapy helps break the tranquilizer habit; sea therapy — plasma has the same relative composition as sea water — is combined with underwater massage. They make external use of sea mud taken from below sea level "where waste materials have accumulated for thousands of years becoming compressed," he explains.

"We are not trying to create young people out of old people. We are trying to keep them functional to the end of their lives. I'd like to go further, making Renaissance a diagnostic center with treatment that can be done in one's home," he explained.

Meanwhile, one can put some of his ideas into effect in the home, and save $200 a day, the approximate cost of a visit to Renaissance.

The Rules Change After the Game Ends

DEAR ABBY: My father in law is basically a pretty nice guy, but he is a real football freak.

My wife likes to spend Sunday with her parents, so we go, and of course the TV is always going full blast with some football game because her father is crazy about football.

My father in law (I call him "Coach") begs me to bet, and just to please him, I do. I always end up with the winning team, but I lose money because he comes up with all kinds of funny "house rules" such as press bets, side bets, etc. Meanwhile, he sits there with a Cleveland Browns coaching hat on his fat head and laughs his head off.

What should I do?

KEN IN WOOSTER
DEAR KEN: Keep the bets small and let the old gaffer have fun. Meanwhile, when you've learned his game, raise the ante and then YOU have fun, too!

DEAR ABBY: Paul and I have been married for 27 years. We have three children. Two are in college. Paul has worked hard all his life and we have done well financially because I worked, too, and we saved our money. Paul came from a large family (10 children) of which he was the oldest. His father died shortly after we were married, so Paul helped support his mother and the younger children. I never objected, tho it was quite a strain on us for many years.

When Paul's mother remarried two years ago, I breathed a sigh of relief. Well, the other day when I went thru Paul's pockets before sending his suit to the cleaners, I came across two letters from his mother, addressed to him at the office!

Since no one was around, I decided to see what was up. I found out she had asked him for some money and he had sent it. I don't know how much or how often. Well, I am boiling, and I can't say a thing.

I am fed up with this whole mess, especially this business of writing to Paul at work to ask him for money.

How do I handle this situation? I am not a snoop, but—

SEALED LIPS

DEAR SEALED: You say you are not a "snoop," yet you read letters that were not intended for your eyes. You can either keep your lips sealed and pretend to know nothing, or confess that you read the letters and ask Paul for an accounting. I think you'd feel better if you confessed and cleared the air.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Topic: Nutrition for Women Slated for Wednesday Night

There will be a talk on nutrition, of special interest to women, on Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Women's Center in Poughkeepsie.

Most persons have heard women need "more" iron but how many have heard about the dangers of too much iron? A question-answer period will take place concerning vitamins and minerals, regarding the special nutritional requirements of women.

The speaker, Hugh Weston of the House of Nutrition, is well known for bringing such famous authorities as Adelle Davis and Carlton Fredericks to this area, and for his own talks on radio. Weston pioneered health foods in the Hudson Valley and is the founder of Nutritional Research.

The Women's Center is located at 96 Market Street, Poughkeepsie, across from the Adriance Library. There is no charge and area women of any age are invited to attend this lecture.

A Dessert for That Special Valentine...

For a special Valentine, a special dessert. In spite of the fact that meringues are easy to make, their resulting elegance usually means that they are saved for special occasions. And Valentine's Day is one of those occasions.

For this meringue, beat egg whites with sugar until stiff — add cinnamon and a little red food coloring; then form into a heart and bake. The secret of the meringue is to allow it to cool slowly in the oven as the oven cools after baking.

Then fill with ice cream... and add the topping of apple sauce spiced with cinnamon, and a spoonful of cherries. The contrast of textures as well as flavors makes this dessert special company fare.

The applesauce topping is the ingredient that ties all of the flavors together. For with its tart-yet-sweet mild apple flavor, it has the ability to blend and enhance other flavor and food combinations. That's one reason children are so enthusiastic about apple sauce.

We don't really outgrow the taste for apple sauce, but we do sometimes forget the nice things it can do. Here the apple sauce has been cooked with brown sugar, cinnamon and lemon rind for an extra touch... and it makes a good topping for ice cream just like this. But for your Valentine, put it in a pink heart!

Apple Sauce Meringue Heart

Three egg whites
One-quarter teaspoon cream of tartar
One-quarter teaspoon cinnamon
One cup sugar
Few drops red food coloring
One and three-quarters cups apple sauce
One-third cup firmly packed light brown sugar
One-half teaspoon cinnamon
One-half teaspoon grated lemon rind
One pint vanilla ice cream
One can (one pound six oz.) cherry pie filling
One-quarter cup light rum, optional

In mixing bowl, beat egg whites and cream of tartar until soft peaks form. Gradually add cinnamon and sugar, beating until mixture becomes very stiff and glossy.

APPLE SAUCE MERINGUE HEART — A very special dessert for a very special day. Crunchy meringue, creamy cool ice cream and cinnamon applesauce all served topped with rum flavored cherries.

Apple Strawberry Snow

One envelope unflavored gelatin
One-quarter cup cold water
Two cups apple sauce
One-quarter teaspoon nutmeg
Dash salt
Two cups sliced fresh strawberries
One teaspoon vanilla extract
Two egg whites
One-third cup sugar
Soften gelatin in cold water five minutes. Combine apple sauce, nutmeg and salt and heat. Add gelatin, stirring until dissolved. Cool until slightly thickened. Add one cup strawberries and vanilla extract. Beat egg whites stiff, gradually add sugar, beating constantly. Fold into apple sauce mixture. Pour into one quart mold. Chill until firm. Garnish with one cup sliced fresh strawberries. Makes eight servings.

For a George Washington Pie — substitute a nine inch baked pastry shell for the heart-shaped meringue shell.

Another recipe suitable for a Valentine — pink and pretty, apple sauce is combined with beaten egg whites, strawberries and gelatin... and serve with more sliced strawberries.

Dave De Busschere—Mr. Big

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave DeBusschere—a very, very tired Dave DeBusschere—sat next to a whirlpool machine in the New York locker room Monday night and savored the Knicks' third hard-fought National Basketball Association victory in as many days.

The Knicks had just beaten the Golden State Warriors 97-84, and a big reason was DeBusschere, New York's all-star forward, playing a rugged 47 minutes, scored 27 points—tying teammate Walt Frazier for game honors—and grabbed a team-high 15 rebounds.

"I was very tired tonight," DeBusschere said afterwards, thinking back to New York's 110-108 victory over Boston Saturday night and grueling 96-93 triumph over the Celtics on national TV the next day. "I was just emotionally drained after that Boston game Sunday."

"But it wouldn't have done us any good, winning the two against Boston, if we lost tonight," he added. "So we just had to sustain it one more night."

By beating Golden State, the Knicks drew into a virtual tie with Boston in the tight Atlantic Division race. The Celtics retain the division lead with a 40-9 record for a winning percentage of .816, while the Knicks' record of 43-12 puts them even with Boston in games but in second place with a .782 percentage.

DeBusschere, bombing from long range, scored 19 points in the first half as New York took a 48-44 lead. The Knicks then outscored Golden State 16-6 in the first eight minutes of the third quarter, took a 71-62 lead into the final period and led by as much as 17 points in the fourth quarter.

The Knicks' sticky, switching team defense was at its best against the Warriors. Golden State sank just 30 of 85 field goal attempts, a poor .353 percentage.

In the only other pro basketball game Monday night, Mike Barr's steal and layup with 10 seconds left gave Virginia a 122-121 decision over Utah in American Basketball Association action.

Bernie Williams led Virginia with 23 points, while Zelmo Beatty had 35 and Ron Boone 28 for Utah.

THE LEAPER — Golden State Warriors' Nate Thurmond (42) makes leap for basket as teammates Fritz Williams (21), Cazzie Russell (32) and Knicks' Dean Meminger (7) and teammate Willis Reed (19) all try for ball in Monday night game. Knicks won 97-84. (UPI)

Fisticuffs In Big Ten

By United Press International

Battling temporarily replaced basketball in the Big Ten once again Monday night—almost exactly one year after Ohio State's infamous melee with Minnesota.

With one second remaining in Iowa's 75-68 victory over Michigan, Hawkeye center Kevin Kunnert was fouled as he went in for a layup. Both benches poured out onto the court. Students joined in the fracas that was stopped by police and athletic director Bump Elliott of Iowa. Officials called the game with one second to go.

However, six straight free throws in the final 65 seconds had iced the game already for Iowa, now 2-4 in the Big Ten and 8-7 overall. Michigan, which saw its title hopes wane considerably, slumped to 4-3 in league play and 11-6 overall.

Kunnert led the Hawkeye offense again with 24 points. His 17 rebounds set a school rebounding mark which was previously held by Don Nelson, now with the NBA Boston Celtics.

It was Kunnert's basket with 3:43 left in the contest that broke a 58-58 tie and put Iowa ahead to stay. Michigan was forced to play catch-up and foul in the closing minute before tensions flared into fisticuffs.

It was on Jan. 25 last year that anger got the better of sportsmanship in a Big Ten duel between Minnesota and Ohio State.

In other college basketball action Monday night, sixth-ranked Minnesota whipped Wisconsin 81-64, seventh-ranked Alabama suffered its first Southeast Conference loss, 95-93, at the hands of unranked Kentucky, ninth-ranked Marquette dumped Xavier 90-61, 15th-ranked Southwest Louisiana routed Houston Baptist 123-31, Florida State demolished South Florida 95-53, Louisville ripped New Mexico State 91-64, Rutgers embarrassed Scranton 100-58, Purdue beat Northwestern 76-62 and Tennessee 73-60.

Mike Flynn sank a pair of free throws in the final 14 seconds to give Kentucky its upset victory over Alabama in a hard fought game which saw the lead change 21 times in the first half.

Kevin Grevey scored 33 points to lead the Wildcats, attack while Flynn added 18 and Bob Andrew had 13.

Leon Douglas had 34 points for Alabama, which saw its overall mark drop to 13-2. Wendell Hudson added 31 points for the losers.

The victory gave Kentucky a 10-6 season mark and makes the Wildcats 5-3 in the SEC.

Ron Lyle Arrives, Ready for Quarry

By GREG GALLO

UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ron Lyle the only unbeaten major heavyweight around besides the new champion, George Foreman, arrived here Monday to begin training for his 12-round bout with Jerry Quarry at Madison Square Garden on Feb. 9.

Lyle, an ex-convict who served half of 15-year sentence for second degree murder before being paroled from the Colorado State Penitentiary, has been sensational as a pro, winning all his 19 fights, 17 by knockout.

"I'm here, I'm in condition, and I'm ready to fight," said the 30-year-old Lyle, who shot and killed a man in a gang fight back in 1962. "I've overcome a lot of obstacles in my life and Jerry Quarry is just another one. Obviously he's a good fighter. He has his own unique style, a good puncher and he can take a good shot."

"But I've been looking forward to this. Since they told me about this fight I can't think about anything else. Just Jerry Quarry. I'll go over him or win at all times."

Lyle has always pushed himself to be better than what others expected him to be. Perhaps, this is why he has risen to be the fourth-ranked heavyweight in the world in just two years. Perhaps this is why there is no losing for Ron Lyle.

"I have my own individual style and what happens, happens," said Lyle. "I got no heroes. I'm not trying to be Joe Louis, Jack Dempsey, Rocky Marciano, Muhammad Ali, or Joe Frazier. I'm just being Ronnie."

That's been good enough for Lyle's manager Bobby Lewis, the coach of last year's Olympic Boxing team. "He is one of the most superb athletes I have ever trained," said Lewis. "Whatever I tell him he does. No arguments."

In the ring, Lyle has followed Lewis' advice just perfectly. "We never plan anything before a fight but after the first round, the first minute, I can spot something the other guy is doing," said Lewis. "I'll tell Ronnie and he starts doing different things in the next round."

Sisemore, a devastating one-on-one blocker, should start immediately if he can learn prototype pass blocking.

The New England Patriots, making their first choice on the opening round, took John Hannah, the all-America offensive tackle from Alabama.

Decision Is Due on Olympics

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Mayor Jake Garn met today with his Olympic Steering Committee to decide if the city will withdraw its bid to host the 1976 Winter Olympics.

Garn who has insisted that federal money would be needed if Salt Lake City was to bid for the games, was informed on Monday that federal funds could not be obtained before the International Olympic Committee meets next Sunday to select a site to replace Denver, which withdrew as the host for the 1976 winter games.

Awaiting Salt Lake City's decision is Lake Placid, N.Y., whose mayor, Robert Peacock, said Monday: "We have never given up hope."

The U.S. Olympic Committee designated Salt Lake City over Lake Placid and three other cities as the U.S. entry after Denver's pullout.

Copies of a letter from Sens. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, and Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, to Garn were circulated to the news media Monday. The letter said a commitment of federal funding could not be obtained before Sunday.

Garn has said repeatedly that the city would not send a delegation to Lausanne, Switzerland, for the IOC meeting if the federal funding commitment was not obtained. He estimated $30 million would be needed for Salt Lake to host the games.

Garn said, "Obviously the chances have been slim for the last week or so, so the letter doesn't surprise me."

Garn also accused Lake Placid for what he said was an attempt to undermine Salt Lake City's chances of hosting the games. Lake Placid had hoped to host the 1976 games before Salt Lake was tapped by the U.S. committee.

Other bidders for the Winter Olympics include Innsbruck, Austria; Chamonix, France, and Finland.

Naccarato—30 Points

Chando Scores 34 In SAA Contest

SAUGERTIES

Rod Chando, the leagues leading scorer, poured 34 points through the hoop and Mike Derrenbacher and Don Komosa added 18 each, as Capri 400 routed Foster's Coach House, 88-54, for its ninth win against two losses.

Ackers' Raiders turned back a Hudson Valley Tire challenge 86-74 to retain second place, one game behind the leaders. In the other game, Naccarato's Insurance moved over the .500 mark with a 98-87 conquest of Boo's Tavern.

With the three favorites winning easily, the results extended two streaks — a six-game skid by Capri and a six-game loss string by the cellar-dwelling Boo's.

Capri held on to first place by gaining a 36-29 first half lead and then blasting Foster's with a 35-11 fourth quarter. Chando, boosting his season's total to 290 points for 11 games, a 26.4 average, hit 15 times from the field and added four three-pointers and three assists.

Komosa added 15 rebounds to his 18 points and had six assists. Ray Lindhorst hit the boards for a days' high 20 rebounds. Dave Whitaker (13) and Bob Ahlin (12) led the Coachmen.

Raiders led Hudson Valley at every quarter stop and had their five starters in double figures. Ron Thomas led with 18 points. Scott Miller 17 and Pistol Pete Koola 16, with 12 rebounds. Jerry Hawkins hit for 15 and 5 assists, while Warren Gritmon collected 10 points, nine rebounds and five assists.

For the Tiremen, it was Craig Burkhardt with 22 points, John Kelly 18, Ralph Cort matched 14 points with 14 rebounds and Ray Kilmer added 12 rebounds to 10 points.

Captain Jack Naccarato put on quite a show for his team, hitting 13 of 17 field goal attempts and 4-for-4 from the foul line for his 30-point harvest. The Insurers jumped to a 25-11 quarter lead and never relinquished it.

Dan Heppner helped with 21 points and six assists. Ed Strohsahl and Chuck Schirmer scored 14 points each and Al Hrdlicka had 13. Strohsahl also contributed 14 rebounds and three assists.

The losers' John Carnright had a fine day with 29 points and three assists. George Hollister sank 17 points and Tom Tegeler hooped 14.

Coleman at Highland; OCS Hosts New Paltz

RVC Ganders Closing the Gap

By STEVE KANE

KINGSTON

While all the shouting has been going on about the title race in the UCA's Southern Division, Roudout Valley has been steadily closing the gap on Northern leader Liberty. Tonight the Ganders will have a chance to come even closer when they invade the Redskins' court and shoot for their fifth straight victory.

The other Northern struggles should be real close ones. New Paltz and Ontario, both victors last week, face off in Bokeville while Walkill and Pine Bush meet in a battle of have-nots. The hectic Southern race continues with Marlboro visiting Red Hook and Coleman journeying to Highland.

Roudout coach Mickey Million has a rapidly developing center in young Joe McCall. The rest of the Ganders have jelled into a balanced scoring club with a good defense, and their recent record shows it. Last time out, Roudout ripped Walkill by 26 points scoring more points than a team from that school has for quite some time.

Liberty, apparently a shoe-in for the crown after a strong start, was upset last week by OCS. The Redskins have yet to lose at home, however, and it will be an uphill fight for Roudout.

Ontario will have to beat New Paltz at its own game—defense, if the Indians are to make it two in a row. With the home court edge, a height advantage and a little deeper bench, the odds are with the Indians to do just that.

But steady New Paltz is not a team to take lightly, especially if your fortunes have yo-yoed like those of OCS. Should a 20-point night fail to come from some Ontario shooter, the Indians will be in trouble.

Pine Bush is 1-8 and Walkill is 1-9, and that's about all there is to that. The Bushmen are home and are coming off a close loss, and that's almost as good as a win in Pine Bush these days. The Panther picture doesn't appear to be getting any brighter.

One of the seasons' crucial games is scheduled for the Red Hook gym. A Marlboro victory would all but wrap things up for the Dukes—and knock the Raiders out of contention. Despite the absence of Kevin Kelly from the Red Hook lineup, it won't be easy for Marlboro.

Red Hook's desire to avenge an earlier loss won't be the biggest factor here, though it won't hurt the Raiders' chances. What's more significant is the fact that through nine league victories, the Dukes have yet to face a real test on the road. The Dukes know they've been lucky in avoiding Liberty so long and in meeting their top three contenders on friendly ground first.

Seemingly, a perfect record would provide all the confidence needed but at Highland, Marlboro looked very ineffective in squeaking out a win. The Dukes can't forget that very easily, and when Red Hook's tiny gym starts to get noisy, anything can happen.

The one thing Coleman can't afford at this stage of the season is another loss. The Statesmen have been beaten three times this year, and that's about the quota a division winner can absorb.

Though Highland has not been the friendliest place for Statesmen teams in recent years, Bill DuBois' squad should have little trouble in disposing of the Big Blue shooters. Coleman will just keep things alive until Friday when the South will rise again.

Healthy KHS Hosts Lourdes Five

By STEVE KANE

KINGSTON

There may be some familiar faces back in the lineup when Kingston High hosts Lourdes in the Kate Walton Fieldhouse tonight. Tom Turco, who missed a few games with a back injury, and Walt Houghtaling, the Maroons' ersatz field leader who's been out all season with a broken ankle, are described as "possibilities" by coach Mike Rienzo.

"Turco may be ready," Rienzo said, "but Walt will need the doctor's OK before he can play. I'm not sure if either one will be ready in time or even if I'd put them in the game anyway without a practice. They might get in, but I think we'll finally be healthy by Friday."

Other DCSL games on the schedule include Beacon at Arlington, Ketchum at John Jay and Roosevelt at Poughkeepsie. Saugerties has the night off.

It's notable that the KHS medical report gets top billing these days, and the Maroons' 3-5 record is the main reason. Though that's a bit below the pre-season expectations, the rest of the league, with the exception of Beacon, is not far away. Poughkeepsie and Roosevelt are deadlocked in second with 5-3 records.

The first Kingston defeat came at the hands of this same Lourdes club way back in December. If Kingston is to turn things around there's hardly a better place to start.

"Lourdes is an improved club," cautioned Rienzo. "They play well together, and though we may have a slight height advantage, they are better shooters."

All true, but Kingston does have a few things going for it this time. One is the home court.

"That can be a factor in a close game," Rienzo said, and the last KHS-Lourdes affair was close.

Althiser Goes One More Time

KINGSTON St. Joseph's Parish Athletic Director Arthur Althiser, who retired from active ranks last season, has announced he will come out of CYO retirement to coach one last game.

It will be for the game between the Ulster CYO All Stars and Saugerties Biddy League All Stars in the prelim to the New York Basketball Jets game at Saugerties on Feb. 10.

The CYO team will be chosen from the ranks of the varsity, junior varsity and tyro leagues.

Villemure Will Start at Goal

NEW YORK (AP) — Coach Tom Johnson of the National Hockey League's East Division All Stars, will open with New York's Gilles Villemure in goal tonight as East faces West in the 26th annual NHL All Star Game.

Villemure had been selected as backup goalie to Montreal's Ken Dryden in All Star balloting by members of the Professional Hockey Writers Association. Dryden will miss the game with an injured back and has been replaced on the East squad by Villemure's Ranger teammate, Ed Giacomin.

There was only one other last minute change as the All Stars assembled Monday. Pittsburgh's Syl Apps, out with an injured elbow, was replaced on the West roster by another Pittsburgh player, Lowell MacDonald.

Johnson, coach of the Boston Bruins, had his own Bobby Orr and Phil Esposito in the starting East lineup. Joining Orr on defense was Montreal's Guy Lapointe while Esposito was at center with Buffalo's Rick Martin on left wing and Yvan Cournoyer of Montreal on right wing.

There was a familiar look to West Coach Billy Reay's starting team. That's because five of the West starters came from Reay's Chicago Black Hawks. They were goalie Tony Esposito, defenseman Bill White, center Stan Mikita, left wing Dennis Hull and right wing Jim Pappin. The only non-Black Hawk starting for the West was Minnesota defenseman, Gibbs. The East, leading the All Star series 2-1 with one tie since the divisional concept was introduced in 1939, ranked as a slight favorite for tonight's game.

Islanders Unload Coach Phil Goyette

NEW YORK (AP) — The Torrey and Owner Roy Boe decided it was time for the New York Islanders, who have made very little noise on the National Hockey League ice this season, to make a change.

They were goalie Tony Esposito, defenseman Bill White, center Stan Mikita, left wing

challenge—and I'm looking forward to it."

Torrey said the coaching appointment of Ingardfield was only for the balance of the season—28 games. "When the season is over, we will evaluate our situation," the general manager said.

The Islanders coaching change was the major development Monday as the league readied for its All Star show.

Later, the league's Board of Governors gave formal go-ahead to its conditional franchise in Kansas City and Washington, D.C.

Humbler Derek Back in Boston

BOSTON (UPI) — Derek Sanderson was back with his old teammates today, a little humbler, a lot wealthier and not too sure he'd be able to stay.

Sanderson, winded after his first workout Monday at Boston Garden since he left the Stanley Cup Champion Boston Bruins for the riches of the fledgling World Hockey Association last summer, is trying to work himself back into shape for a possible return to the National Hockey League.

After playing only eight games with the Philadelphia Blazers of the WHA this season, Sanderson was released from his $2.6 million contract in a $1 million settlement.

He and his attorney, Bob Woolf, met with Bruins' managing director Harry Sinden Monday morning to discuss the conditions under which Sanderson might return to the Boston club.

Sinden and Woolf described the session as "cordial," but said no money matters were discussed.

They said Sanderson would work out with the Bruins' top farm club, the Boston Braves of the American Hockey League.

For the rest of the week and Sinden would "take a look at him" on Saturday.

Sanderson admitted he was out of shape. He was tired, sweating and out of breath after the 60-minute workout and complained that he'd have to break in new equipment, save for his skates.

But the worst was over, it seemed. He had talked with his former teammates and while he wasn't greeted with open arms, the tension was gone.

"You can say all you want," Sanderson said, "but you've got to be a little more humble when you come back than you were when you left."

Sanderson said he found it hard to walk into the Bruins office—a prodigal son sort of thing—but it was harder to walk into the dressing room.

"It's a weird thing. It was very tense at first," he said, "but once somebody cracked the first joke it was okay. You don't know what to say in a situation like that."

Sinden said he would talk business with Sanderson and Woolf on Saturday if it appeared that Sanderson would be able to help the Bruins.

"You still have to want to play," Sinden said. "If he doesn't want to play, then he won't play."

Woolf said there was still a difference of opinion on Sanderson's status in the NHL.

"We feel he's a free agent," Woolf said. "They feel he's Bruins' property."

Sanderson, meanwhile, was given a jersey to use for practice. Lettered across the front were the words: "Property of the Boston Bruins."

Nagy Runs 150-and-Out

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Gene Nagy of New York City was the only undefeated player in the $23,000 World Pocket Billiards Championships after running 150 balls in a shutout victory over Alan Hopkins of Elizabeth, N.J. early Monday.

Nagy became only the second player ever to record a perfect score in the World Championship competition with his 150-0 victory. His match record of 3-0 ranks him on top of the 19 competitors in the round-robin tournament which continues through Feb. 17.

In later matches Monday, Ray Martin of Clifton, N.J., defeated John Ervolino of Las Vegas, 150-68; Jim Rempe of Scranton, Pa., defeated Jack Breit of Houston, 150-52; and Hopkins defeated Joe Balsis of Minersville, Pa., 150-31. Balsis became the first player to win 150-0 in championship play when he scored a shutout in 1965.

Nate Is Averaging 33.9

NEW YORK (UPI) — If little Nate Archibald of the Kansas City-Omaha Kings can keep up his present scoring pace this week he will become the first player in the National Basketball Association this season to reach the 2,000 point plateau.

Archibald, sporting a 33.9 point average, tallied 1,901 points in games through last Sunday and the Kings play three games this week, against Golden State Thursday, Portland Saturday and Seattle Sunday.

Archibald, in addition to holding a firm lead over runner-up Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of Milwaukee in the scoring race, also continued to pace all players in assists with an 11.5 average compared to an 8.9 mark by runner-up Jerry West of Los Angeles.

Wilt Chamberlain of Los Angeles, hitting on 15 of 18 field goal attempts last week, was tops in field goal percentage .33 while also leading in rebounding (17.9) and Rick Barry of Golden State was the top free throw shooter with a percentage of .912.

The leading scorers:

Pleads Guilty On False Alarm At Area Motel

TOWN OF SAUGERTIES
An Ozone Park man pleaded guilty to charges of falsely reporting an incident and criminal mischief Sunday after allegedly setting off a fire alarm and damaging the alarm system of a Town of Saugerties motel.

Town of Saugerties Patrolman Harold Ostrander and BCI Investigator Wayne Beyea of the Hurley State Police station arrested Richard Matthew Muliere, 23, of 114th Street, Ozone Park, Sunday after questioning several persons among a group of more than 200 New York City area ski tourists staying for the weekend at the Howard Johnson Motel on Route 32 in the Town of Saugerties.

Police said that Muliere pulled an inside fire alarm in the motel at about 3:15 a.m. Later he allegedly tried to deactivate the system and caused approximately $500 damage to the fire alarm system was not discovered and reported to police until shortly after noon Sunday, Beyea said.

Muliere was arraigned before Town of Kingston Justice Robert Ferrigan and pleaded guilty to both charges. Ferrigan ordered him to pay a $25 fine and sentenced him to a conditional discharge which obligates him to make restitution for damages to the alarm system.

Dems Meeting

The Democratic committee, Town of Ulster has scheduled its next monthly meeting for Wednesday, Jan. 31, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Ronanza Branch of the Heritage Savings Bank, Route 9W North, Town of Ulster. In addition to the regular business of the meeting, there will be the first formal discussion pertaining to the 1973 elections and prospective candidates, for Town Board and legislative positions. Young Democrats and Democratic Social Club members are welcome participants in any and all committee discussions.

Shake Your Head

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—California Gov. Ronald Reagan says a good form of birth control is just "shaking your head."

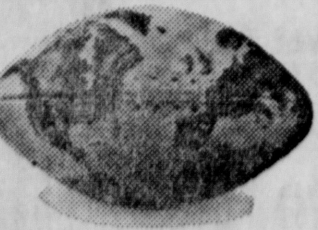

"Birth control really should begin with—prior to marriage—saying no," Reagan told a group of high school students Monday.

The statement came during a question and answer session when the governor was asked by a girl why he vetoed a bill last year that would have permitted minors to obtain contraceptives without their parents permission.

Day Late

Due to the snowstorm refuse collection in the City of Kingston will be a day late through Saturday, a Board of Public Works spokesman said today.

Wednesday, January 31

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today is especially good for organizing your practical and basic affairs that you can add new ideas and methods to long accepted ways of achieving good results. Wise and astute businessmen give you some excellent suggestions for success if you use them. Keep plodding away.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You are able to make big headway in both civic and career work today provided you use the positive and direct approach with others. Use wisdom in handling credit matters. Evening can be ideal with mate.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Use those fine ideas you have and it will be easy to expand in the avenues that mean the most to you. Meet those interesting personalities who can become an integral part of your life in the future. Forget extravagance.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get regular routines done in a more satisfactory and clever way and use more modern methods as well. Get insurances, taxes, etc., paid. Find right method to have more rapport with mate.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Learn what is expected of you by associates either in personal or business life, or both. Many situations come up that give you the go-ahead sign for expansiveness. Use good, constructive methods.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Plan your activities well in the early morning and then go ahead with them in a positive and effective manner. Take the right treatments that will make you feel and look better. A more polite and optimistic outlook on life is wise now.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Join with good friends during spare time and discuss whatever is uppermost in your mind, come to a far better understanding. Buy a nice gift for mate and show you really care. Use more tact, too.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Ideal day to iron out any differences you may have with kin, allies or whoever else is important in your life. Invite some person to your home who can be helpful to you in the future. Impress this individual favorably.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Making the appointments that are helpful to your scheme of things is wise; be sure to keep them on time. You can easily double your productivity. Take it easy tonight, and do some studying that a pen pal to you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Keep rooted to whatever is of a most practical nature today and add much to present monetary security. Look to an expert in business for suggestions that will help you solve your problems. Enjoy mate in p.m. Show more courtesy to this person.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A perfect day for the social on this last day of the month when you can plan next month's activities better, also join with persons who like the same amusements you do. Forget all that worry and fretting.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Not a good day to be your sociable self, but do closet yourself with experts and work out financial and other problems well. Lend a helping hand to those who are not as well off as you. Stay within your budget.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Getting out to group affairs with kin who can add much to your public image and give you added knowledge is fine now. A good friend can help you achieve some vital personal aim. Do not be extravagant, though.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those practical and serious young people who will do well in business of all kinds and the education should be slanted along such lines. Teach early to use that fine smile he or she has more to get faster and better results, otherwise the pressure of merchandizing could make a sourpuss of your offspring. Give good grounding in religious tenets early and be sure the diet is right. Musical appreciation here, too.

"The stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU! Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for February is now ready. ## TEEN FORUM

THREAT: (Q.) After six months I realize I don't love Reg. I want to date other boys. But when I mentioned breaking up he threatened to run off and kill himself. Every time I try to talk about us he says he will commit suicide if I leave him.

I know he has many problems at home, and I would feel guilty for breaking up with him even if he didn't carry out his threats. My mother and best friend tell me I am not being fair to myself going steady with Reg when I don't want to.

But I don't want to hurt him, and I am afraid leaving him would hurt him badly. What do you think?—Desperate in Indiana.

(A.) You are being unfair to yourself. You are being unfair to Reg, too, by continuing to go steady with him. In doing so, you are pretending to love him, or at least that you like to be with him, which is not the truth. By not taking action in accord with the truth, you are living a lie.

He is also being unfair to you by blackmailing you. He may not realize his threats are blackmail, but they are.

Tell him, in the kindest words you can find, that it is all over. Then stick to it.

I have heard of many boys threatening to kill themselves if their girlfriends leave them. I haven't heard of a single boy actually doing it.

GIRL-SHY (Q.) I am very shy with girls. I can't get near enough to one to find out if she likes me. I get nervous even if a girl looks at me. Do you have any tips on how to get over being the way I am? I am 15.—Scared in Delaware.

(A.) It is time for you to start teaching yourself to be comfortable around girls. A good step No. 1 is to select one you feel relatively at ease with. She doesn't have to be a girl friend type. She might be a neighbor, a girl you sit next to in class, or a friend of your sister that you see at home.

She can be younger or older. Practice talking with her, in person and over the telephone. When you discover that she doesn't bite or growl, you will be less afraid to talk to some other girl.

After the second, talk to a third, and a fourth, and so on. Gradually the list of girls to whom you can talk without pain will grow, and so will your confidence.

ABC Moves Up in Ratings

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — ABC-TV's rise to ratings parity with its bigger competitors, NBC-TV and CBS-TV, is illustrated by recent statistical reports on three of its series after midseason network schedule changes.

The series are "The Streets of San Francisco," a police show with Karl Malden and Michael Douglas, son of Kirk Douglas; "Owen Marshall, Counselor at Law," with Arthur Hill as an attorney; and "Kung Fu," which stars David Carradine, son of John Carradine, as a gentle Chinese-American Buddhist priest who is a fugitive on the American frontier in the last century.

"Kung Fu" now has a weekly network outing after being seen occasionally in the past.

It also is by far the most interesting of these series. There is no other regular show on commercial television that is similar in tone. With Western series all but gone from video, this weekly hour has challenged the trend that has eliminated the oaters, and is a new king of frontier story—a Western, all right, but highly contemporary in the outlook of its hero, played extremely well by young Mr. Carradine.

Strikes a Public Chord

On the basis of the 70-city ratings for the week ending Jan. 21, and the overnight statistics in New York City and Los Angeles for its first two episodes as a regular Thursday night entry, "Kung Fu" seems to have struck a public chord.

"The Streets of San Francisco," which follows "Kung Fu" on the ABC-TV Thursday night schedule, also has turned in impressive statistics in the last few weeks, particularly when one considers it was down near the bottom of the ratings when it was seen Saturdays. The network opposition for "The Streets of San Francisco" is, on NBC-TV, the Dean Martin program, and, on CBS-TV, weekly movies.

NBC-TV's Flip Wilson show and "Ironside" are still potent ratings getters, but the network now is getting some unexpected Thursday night competition not only from the sleeper hit, CBS-TV's "The Waltons," but apparently also from "Kung Fu" and "The Streets of San Francisco."

Then there is "Owen Marshall, Counselor at Law," which has moved from Thursdays to Wednesdays. It did all right recently in the 70-city rankings. And last week, in its Wednesday night outing, it scored smashing in New York and did extremely well also in Los Angeles.

Happy with Paar

In the late-night ratings area, ABC-TV says it is happy with the showing of Jack Paar in the first week of his talk show comeback on its new "Wide World of Entertainment" series. Although, predictably, NBC-TV's Johnny Carson led Paar numerically, ABC-TV says Paar's ratings in both the national and 70-city surveys were a large improvement in general over its past statistics in this area of programming.

Actually, the recent week of mystery melodramas on "Wide World of Entertainment" did quite well also for ABC-TV in the 70-market survey. As for Dick Cavett's broadcasts on the series last week, they were sometimes ratings curiosities, 20, while coming in third and fourth behind NBC-TV, nevertheless gave CBS-TV a good race in the 70-city figures. Not many years ago, that would have been unheard of.

SS Hikes Hurting 40,000 Elderly and Poor . . . State Dems

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — An elderly couple, for example, is eligible for Medicaid benefits if their income is no more than $2,900 a year. For many, the increase in Social Security payments pushed their income just above the cutoff point.

Senate Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki of Manhattan and Sen. Jeremiah Bloom of Brooklyn said the 20 per cent increase in Social Security payments would be enough to raise about 40,000 persons above the maximum income level for Medicaid benefits.

The storm was blamed for the low attendance in the Senate and Assembly sessions in the afternoon.

In other business during the day, the Assembly passed, and the Senate advanced five bills dealing with fish in or on waters where the use of fish as bait is prohibited, except fish that are found in those waters.

Six state lawmakers called for the firing of State Education Commissioner Ewald Nyquist and Jack Chen, whom Nyquist hired to develop Chinese studies. Chen at one time served as a publicist for the mainland Chinese government.

The growing opposition to Chen's appointment, reported last Thursday in The Daily Freeman, is headed by two of Ulster County's State Senators, Edwyn W. Mason and Richard E. Schermerhorn.

Mason, of Hobart, said Monday he is worried about "the possible infusion of Communist propaganda into our schools."

In addition to Mason and Schermerhorn, the lawmakers seeking removal of both Nyquist and Chen are Sen. Owen Johnson of Babylon, Sen. Martin Knorr of Queens, Assemblyman Alfred DelliBovi of Queens and Sen. Fred Eckert of Rochester. All are Republicans.

approval or disapproval within 60 days of every presidential impoundment. Unless legislation specifically supporting the impoundment were passed, the President would be obliged to spend the funds.

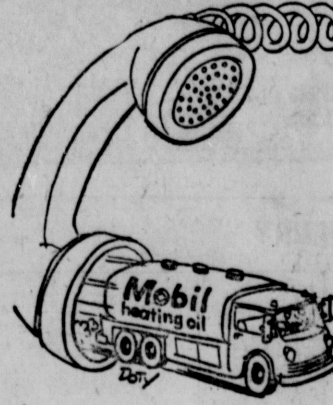

Ralph Nader was the invited leadoff witness in support of Ervin's proposal.

The administration will give its views at hearings early in February. It opposes Ervin's bill.

Restriction of Nixon Power Key Issue

Battle on Impounding of Funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With the backing of more than half the Senate, Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., opened a battle today to restrict President Nixon's power to refuse to spend funds appropriated by Congress.

Ervin said the future of representative government was at stake.

In strong language, he denounced Nixon for impounding funds and blamed Congress for letting him get away with it. He said the President has withheld $12 billion in appropriated funds.

Now that a Vietnam cease-fire has been signed, the issue is the sharpest dispute between the Capitol and the White House.

The issue arose in another form, too, at a meeting today of the Senate Democratic Policy Committee, which considered a resolution calling upon Congress to impose a spending ceiling upon itself.

Nixon, in his budget, asked Congress Monday to bind itself not to appropriate any more than the $268.7 billion he had budgeted.

The White House has argued that impoundments would not be necessary if Congress would adhere to a rigid spending ceiling.

Nixon, through his officials, has defended his refusal to spend all Congress voted for sewage treatment plants, farm programs and housing for the poor on the grounds that he is charged with protecting the nation from inflation.

But Ervin, at the start of hearings of his Senate subcommittee on the separation of powers and deciding which funds to spend and which to withhold, Nixon was "able to the power of his office violates clear constitutional provisions," he said.

More than half of the Senate's 100 members have co-sponsored Ervin's bill giving Congress a chance to vote showing where consumer food dollars go, "the farm value" of the December market basket was $551, or $23 more than in November and $59 above a year earlier.

Meantime, the middleman's share of the basket was $787 in December, down $15 from November.

In December 1971, the middleman's share was $782, or $5 less than last month. That, coupled with the $59 increase in farm value, accounted for the $64 increase in the one-year market basket.

The USDA formerly published dollar breakdowns for the market basket but recently discontinued the practice. The December rates and comparisons were computed at the request of newsmen.

Farm prices, although volatile, have trended up over the past year. Middleman's spreads tend to widen when farm prices decline and then narrow as prices go up.

Regardless, the USDA reported that the December farm value of what families pay for a market basket of food was up about 12 per cent from a year earlier. The middleman's share, which includes wholesale and retail spreads, was 0.7 per cent higher.

The report, prepared by USDA's Economic Research Service, showed supermarket prices rose for most items, including meat, milk, lettuce and eggs.

Beef, for example, cost more than $1.14 per pound, up 2.3 cents from November and the most since last August when it was nearly $1.16 per pound. That is an all-cut price, including hamburger as well as steak.

Pork prices also were up last month to a record retail average of 88.5 cents per pound, breaking the old mark of 87.5 set last October.

Eating at Home More Expensive in '72

WASHINGTON (AP) — New government figures today indicate it cost a family $64 more to eat at home last year, with higher farm prices accounting for $59 of the increase.

The Agriculture Department said the retail cost of a "market basket" list of food items, theoretically enough to feed a typical family of four for one year, was up 5.0 per cent in December from a year earlier.

At the annual rate, the entire market basket for one year would have cost a record $1,338 last month, compared with $1,274 in December 1971. Last month alone the basket cost $8 more or 0.6 per cent, than in November.

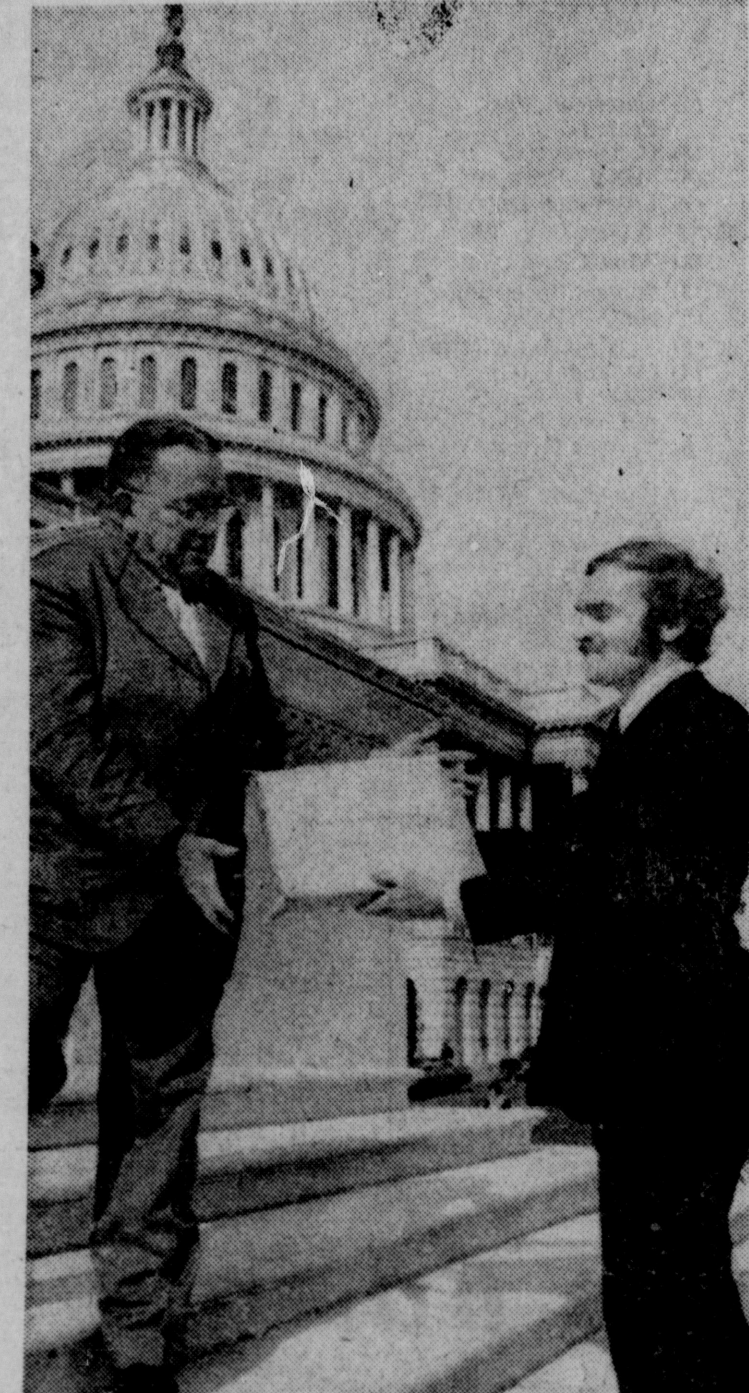

According to USDA statistics

Egyptian Plane Crashes, All 38 Aboard Killed

NICOSIA (UPI) — A Soviet-built Egyptian airliner carrying 38 persons crashed Monday night into the side of a mountain in northern Cyprus. A spokesman for Egyptian airlines said everyone aboard was killed.

The dead, he said, included the flyshin 18 Turboprop's crew of seven and 31 passengers—15 British citizens, eight Americans, two Swedes, two Egyptians and a Frenchman, a Canadian, an Irishman and a Jordanian.

(In London, a spokesman for a British travel agency said the plane carried at least 16 British vacationers).

of Welwyn Garden, a British travel agency.

He said the tour was scheduled to end today with the return of vacationers to Britain. None of the victims was identified pending notification of next-of-kin, but travel agency officials said they believed most of the victims were "older couples."

Rescue workers reaching the scene said debris was scattered over a wide area of the sparsely wooded mountainside. Helicopters operated by the U.N. peace keeping force on Cyprus and a British Air Force rescue team were alerted for possible rescue work, but because there were no survivors, Nicosia airport officials said, they were not needed.
